Republican National Committee Rids Itself of Roosevelt Men.

SOME RESIGNED; OTHERS EXPELLED

Refuse to Recognize Telegram from California Man; Fire Him.

New York, Sept. 18.—The republican national committee today accepted the resignations of its members from Minnesota, Oklahoma and Ohio, and declared vacant the seats held by members from New Jersey, West Virginia and North Carolina, who are Roosevelt supporters. Successors were named to retiring members from Oklahoma, Ohio, New Jersey and North Carolina.

The committee refused to recognize a telegram from Russ Avery, of California, announcing his resignation and voted to expel him for "disloyalty to the republican party." Chairman Hilles was empowered to appoint a sub-committee of three to recommend a successor to Mr. Avery. This action was taken, it was explained, because a majority of the state committee of California are supporters of Col. Roosevelt and the choice of a republican national committeeman could not be left to them. The sub-committee, Mr. Hilles announced, would confer with republican leaders in California concerning both the matter of Mr. Avery's successor and the situation in that state. The sub-committee will report back to Mr. Hilles its findings.

In the cases of Wm. Edwards, of West Virginia, whose seat was declared vacant, and L. A. C. Casewell, of Minnesota, who resigned, the committee voted to ask the state committee of West Virginia and Minnesota, respectively, to recommend their successors. Mr. Edwards' seat was declared vacant because of his "disloyalty to the republican party."

Franklin Murphy, former committeeman from New Jersey, was elected to fill the vacancy from that state created by declaring Borden Whiting no longer a member of the committee.

Sherman Granger was elected to succeed F. Brown, the retiring member of Ohio, and J. A. Harris was elected successor to C. C. Priestley, of Oklahoma.

After disposing of these cases the

BAYONET RULE ZONE ENLARGED

Martial Law Extended to Embrace New Region in West Virginia.

WHITE WILL ATTEND

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 18.—The martial law zone in the strike country was extended today to include Fayette county, where disturbances have been reported among striking miners since early in the week. The territory embraces about twenty square miles.

Soon after the boundaries of the new zone were announced two companies of infantry captured 15 mine guards. It had been denied that mine guards were on duty in this section. They were started on the way to military headquarters where they will be tried on charges of bearing arms within military law territory.

Interest centered today in a telegram received by Thomas Cairns, of district No. 17, United Mine Workers from International President John P. White that he and other international officers would arrive here in time for the meeting called by Gov. Glasscock of miners, coal operators and commercial bodies for next Saturday morning.

Governor Glasscock's committee investigating conditions in the Kanawha coal country, where 1,200 West Virginia militiamen are maintaining martial law because of the strike of miners, today called before it D. C. Evans, coal operator and expert mine operator. The committee desired to secure from Evans as to the cost of coal production in the non-union New River district and compare it with the cost of production in the union districts of West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

It is stated here today that coal operators whose mines are affected by the strike have prepared to give the commission a detailed statement of conditions that prevailed in the sections where mine guards were employed before and since the appearance of the soldiers.

POLICE KILL A SUSPECT.

Fatally Shoot Man Who Sought Escape in River at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Burno Figurski was shot to death in the Allegheny river while attempting to escape from a squad of policemen under Lieut. Thomas Carroll early today. The body has not been recovered. The police were searching for Figurski and a companion who were suspected of stealing copper from mills along the river and came upon them as they rowed to a boathouse. Figurski refused to surrender and jumping from the boat swam toward the shore. The police opened fire and the man went down. His companion, who gave his name as Adam Schultz, quietly gave himself up.

ODD FELLOWS IN PARADE.

Thirty Thousand in Line in Pageant at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 18.—Thirty thousand Odd Fellows from all parts of America, representing every branch of the order, marched through Winnipeg streets today while throngs looked on. The mayor had proclaimed a half holiday in honor of the event.

EDWARD DIDN'T WAIT UNTIL THE INK WAS DRY.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 18.—"Decree is entered for the plaintiff," said Judge Ellis, of the circuit court, in concluding the divorce case of Edward Huber against Lily Huber, and almost before the judgment could be entered, Huber was on the next floor of the court house, where he and Miss Alma Pickett, 18 years old, obtained a license to wed. Mrs. Huber obtained the custody of the two children.

"LITTLE WOMAN" AND "BLACK EAGLE."

Washington, Sept. 18.—Two handsome palefaces, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Heinl, were formally adopted into the Blackfeet Indian tribe the other day, in a unique wedding ceremony performed by the chief of the tribe. Both were given Indian names.

Mr. Heinl is Washington correspondent for Leslie's Weekly. Mrs. Heinl was formerly Miss Helen Corbin, a teacher in the National Cathedral school at Washington. They had previously been married in conventional manner.

It is said that if their adoption by the tribe is regularly certified to the department of the interior, they will be allotted their share of the Blackfeet tribal money, quite a tidy little sum.

RIOTOUS SCENES AGAIN RENEWED

Commerce Minister Knocked Down in Hungarian Parliament.

POLICE QUELL RIOT

Buda Pest, Hungary, Sept. 18.—The riotous scenes which occurred at the opening of the Hungarian parliament yesterday were re-enacted again today when the sitting of the chamber of deputies was resumed. The opposition members concentrated their attack upon Herr Beothy, the minister of commerce, who was struck in the face several times and knocked down.

As soon as the government deputies began to come into the chamber the uproar began. An opposition member shouted "scoundrel" at Minister Beothy, who made a step toward his adversary and asked "What did you say?" Immediately the opposition rushed at the minister, striking him with their fists until he fell to the floor. After some struggling the minister was rescued by friends.

When the president of the lower house, Count Stehen Tisza, took the chair the tumult was resumed. When the police, who had been summoned, appeared in the chamber, the opposition deputies left the hall in a body and the ministerialists carried out the business before the house.

BADE GOOD-BYE TO TOLEDO BURG

Four Prisoners Break Jail Thoughtfully Leaving Note Behind.

SAW THROUGH BARS

Toledo, Sept. 18.—Four prisoners in the Lucas county jail, three of them awaiting action of the grand jury on the charge of burglary and another on the charge of forgery, escaped by sawing their way from their cells and through to the outside bars on the second floor some time Tuesday night or early this morning. They are Frank Wilson, Albert Roberts, Fred Clark and Jacob Johnson.

The escape of the prisoners was not learned until 6 o'clock this morning when Jailer Asa Potter went to open the cells. He was told by the other prisoners.

A note on the floor of a cell was found which read: "Good-by to this burg. Left at 10:30."

CONTRACTS GO IN EVIDENCE

Documents Show How International Gobbled the Others Up.

PERKINS SIGNED FOR BIG COMBINE

Absorption Was Often Concealed by Harvester Company.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Contracts and other documents by which the International Harvester company is alleged to have formed and carried on a trust were introduced by the government today in its anti-trust suit against that corporation. One of the eleven contracts showed that in the purchase of D. M. Osborne & Co., with a plant at Auburn, N. Y., Geo. W. Perkins had signed for the Harvester company.

In this instance the government charged "for two years the defendant concealed its association with the Osborne company and operated the latter as an independent company. This was in pursuance of the defendant's policy, by denying ownership to use controlled companies to break down competition and secure for themselves the benefit of public sentiment against combinations."

In connection with the other contracts the government's contentions were similar.

Grosvenor Explains It.

Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant attorney general, in introducing exhibits, said:

"The Osborne company was the largest independent manufacturer of harvesting implements in the United States in 1902 after the formation of the trust.

GIRL WEARS A BREASTPIN IN HER LUNGS TWO YEARS.

New York, Sept. 18.—A pearl breastpin which 18 year old Olga Martin swallowed while hastily dressing for a party two years ago, was removed from the girl's lungs today at the Lutheran hospital. The pin was located by X-rays and removed with forceps.

The breastpin, which she had placed between her lips while fastening her collar, accidentally slipped down the windpipe. Recently she suffered inconvenience from the pin.

TWO CRUSHED TO DEATH IN A CAR

Lumber Pinions Sleeping Men as Cut of Cars Bumps Into Them.

USE AXES IN RESCUE

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—Two men were crushed to death under a pile of lumber in a freight car in the Brightwood railroad yards today. One other was seriously injured and two suffered bruises. The dead:

Edwin Fooks, 18 years old, Columbus, Ohio.

Roy R. Burton, address unknown.

The injured:

Harry Small, 19 years old, Aberdeen, Ohio.

Lawrence Padgett, 18 years old, Loveland, Ohio.

Walter Cline, 20 years old, Cincinnati.

The five young men wer eon the way to their homes from Charleston, Ill., where they had been in the employ of a circus.

While they were asleep a switch engine, making up another train for Cleveland, backed a cut of freight cars into the car in which the men were sleeping with such force as to send the pile of lumber sliding down on the men on the floor, crushing them. Crawling to the car window of the freight car Padgett jumped to the ground and hastily summoned railroad employes who chopped away the rear end of the car with axes and in a few minutes had released the men. The bodies of Fooks and Burton were taken to the city morgue.

CHICAGO MAN IS DYING.

Joseph Cauret is Mysteriously Shot in New York.

New York, Sept. 18.—Joseph Cauret, an elderly Spaniard of 37 Van Buren street, Chicago, is in an unconscious condition at Flower hospital as the result of a bullet wound sustained early today at the home of Mrs. Jessie Smith in an uptown apartment house, the policemen who investigated the shooting declare that Cauret told them in a moment of consciousness he was tired of living and shot three times at himself. Only one bullet was effective. It crashed through the lower jaw.

Mrs. Smith gave the alarm immediately after the shooting and accompanied by her husband, she visited the hospital and later the station house. She said Cauret had been sent to her home by a mutual friend.

MADE THREATS TO GET MONEY

Some Damaging Testimony is Offered Against Lawyer Gibson.

WOMAN FEARED HIM

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 18.—Testimony was offered at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Rosa Szabo today that Lawyer Burton W. Gibson, charged with Mrs. Szabo's murder, had tried to obtain a loan of $3,000 from Mrs. Szabo and when it was refused had made threats to get it. This testimony was given by George Teichman, a friend of Mrs. Szabo, who testified that Mrs. Szabo had related to him the circumstances of the alleged demand for a loan.

Teichman testified that Mrs. Szabo was afraid of Gibson, fearing that he would get some of her money. The witness said he was present when the body of Mrs. Szabo was exhumed and identified it as that of Mrs. Szabo. After evidence of a formal identification of the body had been taken the inquest was adjourned until Oct. 10.

Trailing Two Women.

Private detectives in the employ of the Austrian consul general are trailing today two women who are suspected of having impersonated Mrs. Petronella Menschik, the mother of Mrs. Rosa Menschik-Szabo, who met death while boating with her lawyer, Burton W. Gibson, on Greenwood lake July 16.

The detectives assert their belief that one of the women under surveillance will be introduced by Gibson as Mrs. Szabo's mother at further proceedings by Surrogate Fowler in the suit brought by the Austrian counsel general to have Gibson, who is in jail at Goshen, N. Y., charged with the murder of Mrs. Szabo, removed as executor of the Szabo estate. One of the women reached New York recently from Chicago and is staying at a fashionable hotel. She says she never heard of Gibson. Another is said to have worn a grey wig when she impersonated Mrs. Menschik in signing the waiver attached to Mrs. Szabo's will.

WARSHIP ALONG MEXICAN COAST

Uncle Sam Sends Cruiser Des Moines Near the Trouble Zone.

ORDERS ARE CLEAR

Washington, Sept. 18.—The cruiser Des Moines, the first American warship to appear on the eastern coast of Mexico in more than a year, is expected at Tampico today.

The state department made it clear that while United States warships were expected to extend protection to American or other foreign citizens in case local authorities could not protect them, their commanders have been strictly enjoined to take no part in the factional fighting or quarrels incident to the revolution.

The Des Moines will cruise between Tampico, Vera Cruz and other eastern ports. She will be the first United States cruiser to appear on the east coast since the gunboat Wheeling made a flying trip to Vera Cruz during the Madero rebellion.

On that occasion the Wheeling was recalled northward at the suggestion of the state department, which feared that the appearance of a warship so near to the City of Mexico might be construed as indicating a purpose to intervene in Mexican politics. Now, however, the department has concluded that United States warships may resume the practice of touching at Mexican ports on their ordinary cruises without fear of a misunderstanding as to their purpose.

Charles E. Bond, vice president of the Old National bank was down town this morning and greeted a number of his friends. Mr. Bond's health is much better and he will soon be able to assume his business responsibilities.

TO TAKE THE STAND OCT. 1

Roosevelt to Testify Regarding Standard Oil's $100,000 Gift.

WILL DASH FROM TRAIN TO CAPITOL

Warned by Physician, Says He Can't Keep Still All the Time.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Col. Roosevelt will reach Washington at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 1, according to a telegram received from the colonel's train today by Frank J. Hogan, progressive leader in the District of Columbia. Chairman Clapp, of the senate campaign expenditures committee, will arrange for Col. Roosevelt to be heard that afternoon regarding the alleged contribution of $100,000 by the Standard Oil company to his campaign fund.

It is expected that Col. Roosevelt will go direct from his train to the capitol, where the committee sessions will be held.

Mr. Hogan has taken up with the New York progressives headquarters a plan to have the colonel remain in Washington for a mass meeting on the night of Oct. 1.

WARNED TO SAVE VOICE.

Colonel Insists He Can't Keep Still All the Time.

Winslow, Ariz., Sept. 18.—On his way to New Mexico, where he is to make his appeal for the progressive party before turning north to Colorado, Col. Roosevelt passed through eastern Arizona today. He was scheduled to make speeches in Albuquerque, Lamy and Santa Fe before leaving the state.

One thing which Arizona needed, Col. Roosevelt said, was equal suffrage. Woman suffrage is coming and that within a few years in the eastern states," he said. "I don't want to see Arizona fall behind in this regard after setting the pace in other ways."

Col. Roosevelt's physician who is making the trip with him largely for the purpose of treating his throat, told him that he must be more careful in the use of his voice. Conversation while the train was in motion was barred, but Col. Roosevelt said he could not keep still all the time, and the doctor found it necessary to keep a close watch on his patient to make him obey the rules. The strain of the long campaign has told on Col. Roosevelt and his voice was slightly husky, although he said that he felt "bully" with some of the hardest fighting of the campaign ahead.

Col. Roosevelt's tour from Denver, which was still undecided when he left New York, was settled upon today. He is to leave Denver Thursday night and go into Nebraska, speaking in Hastings, Lincoln and Omaha on Friday. On the following day he will enter Kansas and

WILSON HANDCLASP DISLOCATES SHOULDER.

Hartford City, Ind., Sept. 18.—The right shoulder of Fred Stuart, of this city, was dislocated by the mighty handclasp of Governor Woodrow Wilson. Young Stuart was in the crowd which welcomed the democratic candidate at the Panhandle depot. There was a rush to shake hands with Wilson and Stuart did not succeed in getting hold of the candidate's hand until after the train had started.

Governor Wilson was busy waving with his other hand to the crowd and forgot to let go. Stuart couldn't let go. Stuart suffered intensely afterward and an examination by a physician made today revealed the fact that his shoulder was dislocated.

Mr. Hegerfeld Objects

CHRIS HEGERFELD, the grocer, popularly known as "The Mayor of Broadway," says he doesn't object to being made the victim of a joke, but he would like very much to object to having such a stale one played on him as that of a Sunday evening or two ago. Away from the cares of business, seated in a large easy rocker, he was disturbed by the ringing of his telephone. Carefully gathering up his form he proceeded to the 'phone when the following conversation took place:

"Hello! Is this Chris. Hegerfeld's residence?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, this is the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company's office. Will you oblige us by stepping outside to see if your arc lamp on the street corner is burning?"

"Which corner? Michigan?"

"Yes."

"Wait a minute and I will go out and see."

In about a minute Mr. Hegerfeld returned to the 'phone and said, "Yes, it is burning all right."

"Well, we think it has been burning long enough, would you mind going over there and blowing it out for us?"

"What's that?"

"I will go out and see."

"Would you mind blowing it out for us?"

"What—Hello—[illegible]"

And the receiver went up with a bang."

SERIOUS CHARGE IN A COMPLAINT

Anna Seltenright Says Her Husband Forced Her Into a Divorce.

WANTS HER FAMILY

In an application filed through Heaton and Heaton in the superior court today, Anna Seltenright asks that the divorce decree granted her husband in May of this year be modified and alleges that he went to her bed at a late hour of the night and by threats secured her promise not to resist his application for a divorce.

She also cites that he practically compelled her at one time to ask for a divorce and that when it was discovered that he had induced her to try to get a separation the judge of the superior court refused it.

She alleges she understood that their three children were to be given into the custody of his mother, who is a highly respected resident of Plymouth, but instead they have been kept at his home, have been allowed to sleep in filthy beds with their clothes even to their shoes and stockings on, that sores have broken out on their legs from the lack of bathing and that they are not properly fed. They are left, she alleges in charge of a girl of fifteen who is not competent to care for them. The wife seeks the custody under a modified decree.

Wunderlin to Reformatory.

William Wunderlin, seventeen years old, was today sentenced to the reformatory at Jeffersonville for a period of from two to fourteen years for an attempted criminal assault upon a girl of ten years. He was a driver and the girl with a younger sister got into his wagon and was taken to a cornfield where the attempt was made. Efforts to secure a suspension of the sentence failed.

LIGHT PLANT IS TO GET SUPPORT

Majority of Councilmen Will Not Stand for a Levy Reduction.

A GARBAGE FUND

In spite of the fact that the members of the board of public safety assured the city council when it met as a committee of the whole last night that there had been an understanding with the members of the fire force that police salaries are to be raised next year and the firemen's pay is to be increased in 1914, a fight on this point was injected and prevented disposing of the annual budget at the session.

It was evident during the meeting that any attempt to reduce the lighting plant levy to provide for garbage disposal would be defeated and it has been practically decided to let the total levy remain at $1.14 and to take two cents from the track elevation levy and devote it to a garbage disposal fund. This will yield about $7,000 a year.

The estimates were read in full last night and another meeting was decided upon for Friday evening and at that time the matter will be disposed of. It is not within the power of the council to increase any of the items in the estimate. The can reduce any of them, but the city controller's recommendation is necessary for an increase.

If any advance is given the firemen it will possibly be at the expense of the policemen, as the salary allowance is all the levy will stand and the only arrangement in sight is to increase the police pay half as much as the board of public safety asks to apply on the fire pay roll.

Councilman Felger wants an engine house for the Tenth ward and Mr. Bauer made some inquiry of Col. D. N. Foster about the appropriation of the river front levy to park purposes and was informed that the park board had used it in the development of its parks. Col. Foster was there to make a fight against any attempt to reduce the park levy.

EFFORT TO MAKE THE RATE LOWER

Insurance Men Ask an Increase in Fort Wayne Fire Equipment.

CONSULT THE BOARD

C. B. Fitch had a long consultation last night with the board of public safety with a view of increasing the fire protection of Fort Wayne in order to obtain a lower insurance rate on the property located in the central districts.

No action was taken other than to point out the benefits to be derived and to indicate to the board just what will be required in order to change the classification of the city as it is now rated by the Underwriters' association.

In the first place the fire department is eleven men short of the number required under the underwriting schedule and one more engine house fully equipped is demanded. Just at this time the city's finances will not permit of these additions but the matter was taken under consideration and if the plan can be carried out the city officials will take a step in that direction.

The additional men would increase the fire force payroll nearly $9,000 and the cost of a new engine house is problematical and would depend largely upon the value of the real estate to be procured and the cost of erecting a station and supplying it with an engine, hose wagons, horses, bedding and the other things that would be found necessary.

It was pointed out that the rate on the most valuable property in the central portion of the city could be decreased about $6 on each thousand dollars of insurance carried and the annual saving would soon pay for the amount needed to recruit the fire department up to the required standard.

The movement is not exactly new but it is the first time it has been gone into in detail as it was last night and it simply devolved into a question of raising the money.

SAYS HE ISN'T MIXING.

President Taft Denies Taking Part in New York Situation.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 18.—President Taft today denied published reports that he is taking a part in the contest in New York state for the republican gubernatorial nomination. The president made it known that he favors no candidate and he expressed the hope that the convention would be an open one.

The following statement was issued: The president wishes it understood that he is taking no part whatever in the contest for the republican candidacy for governor in the state of New York. The newspaper reports that he has favored one candidate as against another are entirely without foundation. He hopes and believes that the convention is to be an open one in which the best judgment of the majority of the republicans of New York is to have expression in their selection of this year's candidates.

The plea was made through their attorney. The accused men were remanded pending the naming of a date for their trial.

GARY & PERKINS SUGGESTED PLAN

Framed Roosevelt's Trust Regulation Program, Says Wilson.

WOULD HELP STEEL

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 18.—How the United States Steel Corporation incidentally would benefit by the plank in the progressive party platform, proposing regulation of trusts by a federal commission, was argued by Gov. Woodrow Wilson in his speeches as he passed from Sioux City, Iowa, to Minneapolis and St. Paul today. It was at Sioux Falls, S. D., that the democratic nominee first drew attention to the origin of the progressives' plank for handling the trust problem.

"The method now proposed of regulating the trusts was suggested in the inquiry by the house of representatives into the steel trust and it was suggested by Mr. Gary and George W. Perkins," he said. "They have thought this thing out. It may be, for all I know, that they honestly think that is the way to safeguard the business of this country. But whatever they think, this they know, that it will save the United States Steel Corporation from the necessity of doing its business better than its competitors. For if you will look into the statistics of the United States Steel Corporation you will find that wherever it has competitors the amount of the product which it controls is decreasing.

"Moreover, I have this to say to the workingmen. Carry out the plan of Mr. Gary and Mr. Perkins and you will have given a control in the market for labor, which will suit these gentlemen perfectly. They don't want competitors in the market for labor, because new competitors will mean new wage scales and these are the very men and almost the only men who have successfully opposed union labor in the United States and shut it out of their shops and bribed it to be content to be shut out by all sorts of benevolent schemes of profit sharing, which a man would forfeit if he joined a union."

"Rats, go tell that to the marines," was the answer the governor gave to those who thought trusts necessary for economy and efficiency.

FOR THE WORLD'S SERIES.

National Baseball Commission to Meet Wednesday to Arrange It.

Cincinnati, Sept. 18.—Chairman August Herrmann, of the National baseball commission announced today that the commission would meet in New York next Wednesday and arrange for the world's championship series.

Mr. Herrmann said all matters pertaining to the games would be placed in the hands of the national commission. He believed the arrangement for the distribution of tickets as made by the Boston club management was premature and even if applied would not be successful. He is rather in favor of obliging mail requests as much as possible.

MAY DIE FROM HAZING.

Middletown, O., Sept. 18.—Gordon Kyle, a freshman in the Middletown high school, lies at the point of death at his home at Kyle's Station as the result of a hazing. It is charged that he was compelled to push a pencil across the floor of the school gymnasium with his nose and while doing so he was urged along by being frequently kicked with the result that his spine has been seriously injured.

CARPENTER TO SPEAK TONIGHT

He is Superintendent of a Sunday School With 6,000 Enrolled.

AT M. E. CONVENTION

The address to be delivered this evening at the Trinity M. E. church by W. E. Carpenter, of Brazil, Ind., on "Evangelism in the Sunday School," will bring to a close the missionary evangelistic convention of the Fort Wayne M. E. district, which began its sessions on Monday evening. The address will be a notable one.

Mr. Carpenter is one of the great Sunday school men of the country. He is the superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school in Brazil that has an enrolled membership of 6,000 scholars, although the city's population is only 10,000. He is a splendid platform speaker and his address will be interesting and profitable to Sunday school workers and others.

The sessions of the convention today, forenoon and afternoon, were marked by a number of splendid addresses, the speakers being prominent men in Methodism throughout the district. The principal address last evening was by Rev. C. Claud Travis, of this city, who spoke interestingly and forcibly on the theme, "Missions in Latin Lands." The sessions have been presided over by Rev. J. A. Beatty, the superintendent of the Fort Wayne district.

The Sunday school of which Mr. Carpenter is superintendent at Brazil is the largest one in Methodism, if not in the world. In his address this evening he will speak of the methods pursued to make it the great success it has attained.

Other Litigant Dead in Case Which Hung Fire Thirty-Six Years.

Washington, Sept. 18.—After taking thirty-six years to wend its way through the lower courts to the supreme court of the United States, the suit of George Harrington, of the District of Columbia, and Thomas A. Edison, of New Jersey, against the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph company and Jay Gould, of New York, over telegraph patents, may be dismissed today without a hearing. Attorneys for the corporation and the Goulds today filed a request that the case be dismissed "because of lack of jurisdiction."

All the individual parties to the suit have been dead twenty years with the exception of Mr. Edison. Testimony has been taken both in Europe and America. One of the judges early in the case, Judge Blatchford, rounded out his life by service on the bench of the supreme court since he first passed on it. At one time one dollar damages were awarded to Harrington and Edison, but the latest judgment was that the suit should have been dismissed at its beginning.

WALDO RESUMES STAND.

Document Shows Old Opportunity to Purchase Promotion.

New York, Sept. 18.—Rhinelander Waldo, commissioner of police, resumed the witness stand this afternoon before the aldermanic committee appointed to investigate the police department. He produced at once the affidavit of Police Captain John T. Reith, who alleges that a former under-sheriff of the city told him in 1910 that he could be promoted to a captaincy by payment of $15,000. He refused to pay the money, Reith avers, but was subsequently promoted when Waldo became commissioner.

Emory R. Buckner, counsel for the committee read the affidavit and then Reith himself took the stand.

The former under sheriff named in the document is Alfred J. Johnson, one time secretary to Mayor Grant and now employed by Daniel G. Reid, the railroad magnate.

In a statement issued today Johnson denied the police captain's charges.

CHARGE AGAINST OFFICERS.

Tried Sherlock Holmes Stunt and Safe-Blowers Escaped.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Failure to capture two members of a gang of safe-blowers who stole $71,000 from the Bank of Nova Scotia in Vancouver, B. C., was today made the basis of charges by Chief of Police McWeeney against Capt. John J. Mahoney and Lieut. Benjamin Burns.

It is alleged that Mahoney and Burns instead of seeing that an adequate force was dispatched to arrest the robbers, who were in a saloon here, engaged in a Sherlock Holmes attempt to have Burns, disguised, take the thieves single-handed.

Burns was beaten unconscious by the robbers, and is in a hospital.

BRMAN REACHES MILWAUKEE.

Rain Prevents Extended Practice on Auto Race Course.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—Rain today prevented any extended practice on the race track to be used for the automobile races, beginning Friday. Burman and Horan, the Benz teammates, were among the late arrivals. They will try out the track as soon as the rain ceases. Official Starter Fred J. Wagner will tonight instruct the drivers as to rules governing the races.

BIG BATTLE IN TRIPOLI.

Italians Drive Turks and Arabs With Heavy Loss.

Rome, Sept. 18.—The most sanguinary engagement of the war in Tripoli was fought yesterday near Derne, a town on the Mediterranean coast, 140 miles northeast of Bengazi. The Italians lost 61 men and 113 wounded. The Turks and Arabs left more than 800 dead on the field. Forty-one prisoners, including an Arab chief fell into the hands of the Italians.

The battle opened at daybreak when a force of Turks and Arabs surprised and attacked the Italian lines. The fight raged for four hours, but the superior Italian artillery supplemented by brilliant bayonet charges won the day and the Musulmans fled in disorder.

General Reisoli, commander of the Italian army in Tripoli in his report to the war office, estimates that the Turks and Arabs must have lost 1,000 killed, including those who were carried off and that more than 1,000 others were wounded.

CLUB TO ERECT A NEW BUILDING

Commercial Club Directors Plan to Build Eight Story Structure.

IT WILL BE A GO

The board of directors of the Fort Wayne Commercial club, in regular session Tuesday night, took initial steps in the plan suggested some time ago for the institution to erect a new home. Three sites have been offered at this date, and after one has been selected an eight story building will be constructed, if present plans materialize.

The club has long been in need of a new home and this is realized more strongly each year. It is likely that a stock company will be formed among the club members and the building will be financed in the same manner as was the Anthony hotel enterprise.

Preliminary Plans.

The proposed building will be a fireproof structure and will cost not less than $150,000. According to the preliminary plans, a modern rathskeller will occupy the basement and will be operated by an experienced hotel man who will also have charge of the cafe and buffet on the first floor. The club will occupy the second, third and fourth floors. The remaining floors will be devoted to business purposes with large and modernly equipped offices.

The directors have several plans in view for financing the building, but it is considered likely that the structure will be erected by private subscription. It is believed that members of the club will take all the stock necessary to start the work.

The special committee appointed by Mr. Thieme will begin work immediately and will submit a report to the directors at the next regular meeting.

At Tuesday night's session it was decided to send a big delegation to the annual convention of the Indiana Federated Clubs, to be held at Indiana Harbor. Hon. Samuel M. Foster, of this city, is president of the state organization and will preside.

BOY BURGLAR MUST GET JOB.

Yonkers (N. Y.) Youth, Paroled by Prosecutor, Given Chance.

New York, Sept. 18.—William Zintel, 16, a Yonkers boy who committed burglary in order to get a job, was paroled by District Attorney Winslow, of Westchester, and given another chance to make good. Zintel confessed and was freed from jail on his promise to secure a position. The boy owes his freedom largely to City Judge Beale, of Yonkers. When he was arraigned Zintel frankly admitted that he broke into a storehouse, but said he did so to get a respectable looking suit of clothes so he could look for a job. He declared that he had been dressed so shabbily that everywhere he went he was turned down. Judge Beale had to hold Zintel for the grand jury, but he communicated with the prosecutor, and leniency was shown him. Probation Officer Garrity, of Yonkers, fitted the boy out in a new suit of clothes. "I've got a chance. I'll make good," said the boy enthusiastically, and he was quickly on his way. If he doesn't get a job he may have to go to prison.

BOY BLACKMAILS COUSIN.

Makes Him "Come Across" Under Threat of Whipping.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—A story of blackmail on a small scale was told in the juvenile court here before Judge Williams, who remanded Sam Stein, a nine-year-old Russian boy, to the Maryland school for boys. The testimony was to the effect that for a long time San has been making his smaller cousin, Hyman Stein, "come across" with spending money to keep from getting a beating. Hyman testified that for a long time he had given up tribute, but that finally he revolted and refused to give up part of a nickel that he had gotten from his mother. Sam thereupon chased him into the house and as Hyman was proving too nimble of foot to be caught as he dodged around a table, Sam threw a glass tumbler at his cousin, inflicting a laceration on the head. This proved too much for Hyman and he told his mother all about the tribute he had been forced to pay and the matter finally got into the court.

SAVED BY HIS SILVER WATCH.

Heavy Current Passed Through It, and Boy Is Only Burned.

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Sept. 18.—A silver watch in his pocket saved the life of Adolph Hendrickson, a painter, who was shocked by 32,000 volts of electricity on the New Haven road. Hendrickson, who is 19 years old, was painting the wires of the electric power system of the railroad. His brush touched the feed wire, carrying 32,000 volts. His body was against the pier on which he was standing, and the current that entered his body passed through his watch into the pier. The works of the watch were fused and there is a mark on the pier where the electricity jumped into it from the watch. The boy's head, arms, back, shoulders and one leg are badly burned, but he will recover.

ASK HABEAS CORPUS WRIT.

Amarillo, Tex., Sept. 18.—Attorneys for John Beal Snead, under indictment for the killing of Al C. Boyce, with whom Mrs. Lena Snead eloped to Canada several months ago, today applied for a writ of habeas corpus in the district court. Hearing of the application was set for Monday, Sept. 23.

ROBBERS BLEW BANK SAFE.

Grand Forks, S. D., Sept. 18.—Six robbers blew open the safe of the First National bank here early today and took $1,000. They escaped on a handcar. Several citizens heard the explosion, but did not try to interfere.

PROBING A MILK TRUST.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 18.—Government officials today began an investigation of an alleged "milk trust" here. The inquiry will be conducted with a view of possible action under the Sherman anti-trust act. It is said that three companies control the milk supply of Chicago.

MANY VETERANS ATTEND PICNIC

OTHER INDIANA NEWS

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 18.—About 1,200 soldiers and their wives attended the annual picnic and reunion of Indiana civil war veterans held today on the grounds of the state soldiers' home. Officers of the institution with the board of trustees and the officers of the State Soldiers' association welcomed the veterans.

During the morning martial music was given by the soldiers' home fife and drum corps and the Mulberry band also furnished music. Many reunions of regiments were held at various points on the grounds and many old stories of civil war days were told by the old comrades.

Eli Ritter, of Indianapolis, a former member of the soldiers' home board, delivered the principal address this afternoon.

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Terre Haute Girl Dead and Mother Fatally Hurt.

Stilesville, Ind., Sept. 18.—Miss Ruth Mahaney, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Mahaney, of Terre Haute, was killed and her mother was perhaps fatally injured in an automobile accident near Stilesville today.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahaney were taking their daughter to Notre Dame to enter her at St. Mary's college. The automobile skidded and Mahaney lost control of it. The machine overturned and the occupants were pinned under it. One wheel rested on the girl's throat and Mahaney did not have enough strength to remove it. The girl was strangled before the machine could be moved by farmers.

DOG GUARDS DRUNKEN MAN.

Indianapolis, Sept. 18.—James Hickey got drunk. He tied his bulldog to his leg and lay down to sleep. Hickey's guardian gave Bicycle Men Hanks and Washburn trouble. The pup could not discriminate between robbers and policemen, and defended his master loyally. Neither policeman approached within ten feet of Hickey, who slept on, oblivious to the attention his pup was receiving. Washburn got a rope and lassoed the dog and Hickey was arrested. Today Hickey was fined $1 and costs.

DECLARED OF UNSOUND MIND.

Charles Watson will be removed to the county farm from the jail to be held under a commitment issued from Justice Grabner's court in which an inquest was held and at which he was declared of unsound mind.

One of the city's street push carts bumped into a buggy belonging to Fred Eckert this morning. The horse became frightened and started down the sidewalk. The cart in some manner became caught on the buggy, and narrowly missed striking several persons. The horse was stopped after it had gone from the National meat Market to Lewis street.

CRUSHED IN ELEVATOR.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 18. — Rev. Father T. J. Duffy, aged 72, for eighteen years rector of St. John's Roman Catholic church at Wellsburg, W. Va., was crushed to death in the North Wheeling hospital today as he entered an elevator.

Quitting High School.

It is rather startling to learn from statistics just compiled by the Indiana department of public instruction that but half the pupils who enter Indiana high schools complete the course. The other half quit without reaching commencement honors. It is shown that while there was a total enrollment of 55,247 in the high schools of the state last year, the senior classes contained but 9,169 pupils, the diminishing ratio as the freshman year is passed manifesting itself in emphatic fashion.

It is doubtless true that in many instances individual circumstances surrounding the pupil compel him to drop out before completing the prescribed course, but it is inconceivable that any such explanation can be accepted for half the complete total. Rather, we are inclined to believe, the reason is to be found in a prevalent belief that high school courses as they are now organized aim at a preparation of the student for college rather than an equipment which will be of practical service to him as he goes out to meet the world. Manual training and domestic science which are coming into more general use yearly in Indiana schools must certainly be given rank as intensely practical features of the curriculum, but they have not been sufficient to reverse the balance now plainly on the wrong side of the ledger in the matter of high school attendance.

One of the reasons alleged by a Muncie woman who is suing for divorce is that her husband persisted in sleeping in the hayloft above a barn rather than in a bed in the family domicile. But when you come to think of it, what sort of improvement would a husband with that sort of tastes be to a happy home even if he had elected to woo the gentle goddess of slumber beneath the family rooftree instead of burrowing in a haymow? The lady in question appears to have had the best of the bargain without realizing it.

Members of Battery B who yesterday returned from a little jaunt in Northern Indiana that covered somewhat more than one hundred and twenty-five miles are justifiably proud of their record. They came through the week of "hiking" in fine style and have eclipsed any previous performance of the Indiana national guard in road marching while getting a taste of real camp and marching life of the soldier.

If one accepts at par value announcements from the progressive camp of the unanimity with which Allen county republicans are deserting Mr. Taft's organization and flocking to Roosevelt, he must be harrassed by the fear that the G. O. P. will have difficulty filling the election board places in November with candidates and their relatives barred under the law.

Now they have started to bring vast quantities of benzine and other Asiatic oil products to America to compete with those of the Standard Oil company. This is the cruelest blow that has been struck at Mr. Rockefeller's benevolent institution since the anti-trust dissolution which sent its stock booming up to the top-notch price on the market.

It is perfectly proper for Lagrange, Mo., where Governor Marshall's parents lived in his earlier days, to do the handsome thing by the governor in the way of a "home-coming" on the occasion of his campaign tour visit, but Whitley county will never stand for the Missouri town calling itself "home" to the governor.

SAME EVERYWHERE.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Councilman Dan Shordan is in New York city.

John J. Pauley is the pleasant day clerk at the Robison house.

The Misses Swinney, of West Jefferson street, went to Chicago this morning.

Charles E. Cleveland and J. Hauson, both of this city, were yesterday granted a patent for sawmill carriages.

Fred G. Lepper, the pleasant clerk in Lepper's drugstore, has returned from a week's visit at Chicago and Aurora, Ill.

Col. R. S. Robertson attended the meeting of the republican editors held at Warsaw.

Ernest Baker found a purse on Washington street this morning which contained a considerable amount of money.

Rev. D. S. Kennedy and Mr. O. B. Fitch have returned from the conference held at Goshen.

Mrs. Gottlieb Haller, with her mother, Mrs. Fisher, has returned from an extended visit with friends in Kansas.

Inspector Frank Iten and family have returned from a visit with relatives in Ohio.

J. M. Robinson acted as prosecutor in police court this morning in the absence of Prosecutor Dawson.

The Whitley county commissioners have been submitted and approved the plans for the new court house. Brent Tolan, of this city, is the architect.

Last night thieves forced an entrance into Will D. Kyle's music store on Calhoun street and carried away $50 worth of valuables.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger has appointed Rev. Father Borg as chaplain of the new orphans' asylum. The appointment goes into effect the first of next week.

The gas well at the Centlivre brewery is down 1,350 feet and Manager C. B. Woodworth expects to strike a vein at almost any time. The People's gas well on the Peltier farm was 1,128 feet deep last night. It is possible that the two wells may come in together on a double header.

was 3,500,000, and between 1901 and 1910 8,250,000. The million mark of arrivals was first reached in 1905, and high water in 1907 with 1,285,000. In the two succeeding years it shrank to 750,000, to rebound in 1910 to above the million, dropping again last year to 878,000, and this year to 838,000.

Whether this decrease is the beginning of a permanent decline in immigration or, like the drop in 1908 and 1909, merely an interruption, to be followed by a return to the million line, is matter for speculation. The disproved traditional dread of bad business in a presidential year may have contributed to keep it down. So, too, may the Italian war: for while the arrivals from the south of Italy still lead in numbers, their number was smaller than since 1908. But the Polish, who were second largest, also show a decrease, and the Hebrews, who were third. Increasing immigration to Canada and to South American countries may perhaps indicate a turn in the tide.

Comparison of the distribution of the arrivals shows that where 32 per cent. of those who arrive before 1901 came to the middle Atlantic states (New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey); 43 per cent. of the last decade went there. On the other hand, where the east north central states (Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin) got 25 per cent. of the old-time immigration, they got but 20 per cent. of the new. New England about held its own with not quite 14 per cent., yet despite the recent efforts to attract immigrants to the south, the country south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi drew actually 7 per cent. less of the arrivals in the past ten years. West Virginia seems to have been the only state in that division that has obtained a marked increase in immigration.

Another peculiar feature is the showing that where over 76 per cent. of those arriving between 1891 and 1900 remained in this country, but a little over 60 per cent. of those who came since 1901 have stayed.

ANOTHER HIGH-IDEAL MARRIAGE.

(New York World.)

It appears to have become the fashion in the advanced literary set for young men and women to devise marriage contracts according to their own notions. Following the example of the Danas in Massachusetts comes the contract entered into at Los Angeles by Carlton W. Washburne, a son of Marion Foster Washburne, author and lecturer, with Miss Chandler, a daughter of Julia W. Chandler, of Philadelphia. The contracting parties undertake to assure each other freedom to separate whenever they choose. The contract sets forth that the present marriage shall not be a bar to other marriage should it prove unfruitful, and that neither shall have the right to restrain the other should he or she see fit to incur other parental responsibility.

As these marriages are carried out in legal form, the parties are of course bound by the marriage law of the state. Their prenuptial contract, devised with the intention of evading the law, is invalid. If either of the parties should enter into a marriage with some one else without a legal divorce, there would be trouble.

But the significant feature of the new movement is the ardor of the women that are urging it on. In every case it is pleaded that they are women of "high ideals." The phrase is odd. Once upon a time the high ideal of marriages was for better or worse, till death us do part. Now it is for as long as I like and you please. What height is that?

TO INVITE MEETING HERE.

Commercial Club Wants Convention of Federation of Labor.

The Commercial club committee on conventions, in session Tuesday evening, decided to make an effort to secure the 1913 convention of the Indiana Federation of Labor. The committee promised its assistance to the local federation, and ordered suitable badges and literature printed for distribution next week among the delegates attending the meeting at Richmond. A telegram signed by President Theodore F. Thieme will be sent to Secretary Schwab, asking the federation to name Fort Wayne as the next convention city.

DELAYS SUICIDE TO PLAY SOLO.

Young Violinist Fires Bullet Into Her Heart After Church Service.

Hastings, Mich., Sept. 18.—After playing the violin so well that she was encored by a large audience in church, Grace Bush, a 17-year-old schoolgirl, returned home and shot herself through the heart. She said in a note she left she had been ill and despondent, slighted by some of her friends, and had postponed suicide in order to keep her engagement to play in church.

NEW CURRENCY ORDER SURE.

Reduction in Size of Federal and Bank Bills Will Be One-Third.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The order reducing the size of United States currency and national bank notes by one-third and completely revolutionizing their designs will be issued by Secretary MacVeagh within a few weeks. There is no question now that the change will be made. The designs for the new bills are being completed. It will require eighteen months to make the change complete.

THE PRESS DISCUSSES THE TRAGEDY OF NOGI.

"Last of Its Kind."

Baltimore American: "Suicide, as an act of worship, in these days cannot be regarded otherwise than as a crowning act of barbarism, and doubtless the sad and distressing end of the hero of Port Arthur, possibly the most magnificent general of Japan, will be the last of its kind."

Other Soldiers and Sailors.

Brooklyn Eagle: "Oyama, Kuroki, Togo, Kamimura, Nodzu and other soldiers and sailors distinguished in the war with Russia have not felt it incumbent upon them to join their emperor in death. Their loyalty is not less than that of Nogi, but their view of life, its privileges and obligations, is saner than his."

Qualities of Humanity.

Boston Herald: "The sad expression of the Japanese warrior's devotion we may well deprecate; but his loyalty, his grief so tragically told, his religious veneration for the dead emperor whose kingdom he had nobly defended—these are qualities not of east or west, but of humanity."

"Standards and Loyalties."

New York Evening Post: "Did General Nogi believe that by his dramatic act of sacrifice he could call the spirit of the nation back from its [illegible] vagaries to the old standards and l[illegible]? Here is an excellent case for [illegible] of human actions and motive[illegible]"

"Unfathomable."

New York World: "This Japan [illegible] is so modern and up-to-date in a[illegible] in medicine, in industries, in trade, in education, is still oriental, and, to western minds, unfathomable. Its ways of thought are not our ways."

"Mistaken Sense."

Philadelphia Press: "It is a thousand pities that a man of so fine temper and high ability as this great military commander of Japan should be the victim of such a very mistaken sense of what duty and honor require of a man in his station."

"Imperative Duty."

New York Globe: "Nogi and his devoted wife did not feel, in all likelihood, the romantic quality of their act. To us, strangers to the kind of moral behest at the chivalrous heart of old Japan, their act is of the essence of romance. But to them it was an act of imperative duty."

Shock for Western World.

New York Times: "It is old Japanese custom, but the knowledge that it has survived until this twentieth century will shock the western world. It is as if Count von Moltke had killed himself at the bier of Kaiser Wilhelm I."

THE DECLINE OF IMMIGRATION.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

The injection of immigration as a topic of campaign discussion may arouse some interest in the most recent statistics on the subject showing that the decline begun two years ago continues. It is estimated that the total number of immigrants to the United States since 1819 was nearly 30,000,000, of whom almost half have arrived within the past 22 years. Between 1891 and 1900 the total

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair — Dandruff Quickly Removed.

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, and for promoting the growth of the hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays, almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone, and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair if it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out. Get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special Agents, Meyer Bros. Co.

From Thin to Plump—Girls.

The expressions of happiness and gratitude of several of his young lady patients for whom he prescribed, the recently successful flesh forming product, known as three grain hypo-nuciane tablets, is related by a physician in one of the medical publications and it comes as a surprise to the ordinary layman to learn the heart throbs of distress which seems to affect so many young people who are abnormally thin. Also to know that the weight can be so readily increased by the use, regularly for several months, of this peculiarly named preparation, now obtainable of the best physicians and apothecary shops in sealed packages with complete instructions for self administration.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS

Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irregularities which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfeet about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that soothed the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, as it were, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar-lined and aged her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

MRS. PIERCE.

MRS. HARRELY E. PIERCE, of 244 Bright Street, Sarnia, Ont., writes: "I am now a well woman after suffering for three years and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would not live more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became hopelessly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, and after using two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of 'Healing Suppositories' and eight boxes of 'Lotion Tablets,' and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who suffer from any female disease, for these medicines are all they are claimed to be, and I hope will help others as they have helped me."

WOMEN TO WAGE A WAR ON VICE

They Unite in Chicago to Emancipate Girls Enslaved.

MISS BROOKS TO LEAD

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Chicago women have banded themselves together under the leadership of Virginia Brooks, West Hammond's girl reformer, for a giant vice crusade to end only with the emancipation of enslaved girls found in the disreputable districts of this city.

Club women and working girls will be found in the legions following the modern Joan of Arc in her march upon the city's organized vice, as soon as the West Hammond crusade is ended. "Unconditional surrender" will be the cry first, last and all the time with the Amazon-like band.

Strongholds of vice will be stormed and, figuratively speaking, razed to the ground. The multitude of soul-deadened slaves will be carried away bodily to be freed by the process of social conversion. For that purpose the homes of the crusaders will be thrown open to the outcasts.

Perplexing Problem Solved.

Virginia Brooks and her feminine army believe they have solved the problem which has caused the failure of many crusades in the past. The question, "What will become of the girls?"—destroyer of so many well-meant movements—has lost its force.

"Into our homes for social regeneration" is the answer of the women crusaders of today, routing the bogey which has scared away many reformers. Their plan is the general reclamation of womanhood and citizenship in the realms of vice.

"It is begun in earnest and we will never rest until we have attained our object," said Lucy Page Gaston, ice of cigarettes, yesterday in discussing the movement.

The fight will be started auspiciously with a monster civic welfare parade on Sept. 28. In that Virginia Brooks will lead in true Maid of Orleans style. She will ride a milk-white horse. She will also wear a suit of armor emblematic of civic purity. Her superb charger will be adorned with the white and gold trappings of the days when knights were bold.

"Many of our club women have offered to help in this movement," announced Miss Gaston. "They will be glad to take the unfortunate girls into homes and care for them as sisters. When we are through there will be no vice districts."

The names of the women who will make homes for girls who have heretofore been the prey of police grafters, unscrupulous men and evil women have been withheld. The plan includes secrecy, as far as possible, in the interest of the fallen women to be rescued.

Miss Brooks' fight on West Hammond vice was evident yesterday in the activity of both the coroner and the state's attorney's offices. In his endeavor to clear the mystery of John Messmaker's death at the Henry Foss dive in West Hammond, Coroner Peter Hoffman reexamined "Frankie" Ford and confronted her with Eugene Davis, the long-missing bartender.

The questioning of both revolved about the "black bottle" and the bartender insisted that the mysterious fluid was nothing more than an unbonded whisky kept, contrary to law, in a bond-labeled bottle.

May Exhume Girl's Body.

The peculiarity of Esther Harrison's death, shown in the bartender's testimony, aroused the coroner to a statement that he would confer with the Indiana coroner in regard to exhumation of her body.

Both Davis and the Ford girl, however, told of a postcard written by her just prior to her death and thereby strengthened a suicide theory. "Life is just one d—— thing after another," she had written on the card, according to their stories. The card bore the picture of a tombstone and on it she had printed her own name.

CHICAGO DOESN'T FANCY THE IDEA

Women Will Not Get Jobs as Street Railway Conductors.

IT WOULD NOT WORK

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Chicago will not experiment with women street car conductors. The Philadelphia innovation will not be tried here. There will be no chance to flirt with the conductor and beat the company out of a nickel.

Officials of the traction companies said yesterday they had no desire to try the Philadelphia idea in this city. L. A. Busby, president of the Chicago City Railway company, was very emphatic on the subject. Mr. Busby was married recently and he does not think that a car platform is the right place for a woman. John M. Roach, president of the Chicago Railways company, was once a conductor himself and he does not regard the position as suitable for women.

W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes, regarded the proposition with more favor. "Unless the companies pay their men better wages, it might be a good idea for the motormen to have their wives for conductors," said Mr. Mahon. "The companies could make day nurseries out of the barns with a matron in charge. With the husband operating the car and the wife acting as conductor the combined earnings might support the family. I think the arrangement might be all right."

"It would do away with seniority rules I am afraid," said William Quinlan, president of one of the local unions. "The motormen would want to get runs with pretty conductors and our seniority rules would go to smash. Then again it might cause trouble in the Court of Domestic Relations. Women are jealous and I can imagine what some motorman's wife might do to his lady conductor. On the whole I think the present arrangement is better for the peace of the family."

Duties Awkward for Women.

Operating officials said that while the near-side car relieved the conductor of many of his former duties, it still presents difficulties that would be awkward for a woman. The cars are equipped with only one motor on the front end. In case of an obstruction ahead they have to back up to the first intersection with a "Y" where they can turn around. When backing up the conductor has to be in the front end to operate an emergency brake. He has to jump out in the mud and slush to reverse the trolley pole. Sometimes he has to get on the roof of the car to adjust the trolley pole.

H. H. Evans, secretary of the local transportation committee and an authority on traction matters, said the idea was not new. He saw women acting as both drivers and conductors of street cars in Santiago, Chile, several years ago and they are there yet. They wore calico wrappers for uniforms and the drivers were especially expert in handling the mules that pulled the cars.

WOLF & DESSAUER HOLD OPENING.

Store Has Added Millinery Department to Handsome Remodeled Second Floor.

Women and girls have thronged Wolf & Dessauer's store today attracted principally by the opening of the millinery department just added to this big store. The entire second floor of the store has been remodeled, refitted and newly furnished and the effect is strikingly handsome with an air of the metropolitan establishment that is decidedly impressive. The furnishings are in mahogany and the addition of much more floor space, the setting of counters much farther back than they were before, the many windows on the west side as well as the fine lighting system of the interior contribute to a brilliant and beautiful effect. The woodwork is mahogany and new cases show off rich and handsome materials to the distraction of lovers of pretty materials and modern fashions. The millinery display of imported models of dressy and tailored hats is certainly a fine one and visitors were frank in expressing their appreciation. No description of the styles can be given, but there are models for the young and those of older years, for street and for church, for theater and party going, for those of limited purse as well as for those whose means necessitates economy. Velvets and plushes with wonderful plumes and flowers vie with each other in rich effect and beautiful coloring, while fashion has stamped approval on everything.

MEETING WITH SUCCESS.

Former Fort Wayne Musicians Winning Honors by Meritorious Work.

Singers and lovers of singing will be interested in knowing of two pretty songs written by former Fort Wayne people, Mrs. Lulu Jones Downing, of Chicago, and her son, Webb L. Ward. Mrs. Downing has made a great success of a music art shop in Chicago and her song, "I Love My Jean" is a charming example of an artistic title cover publication. The music is written in folk style and is a ballad of melodious air and graceful accompaniment of which its simplicity is one especial merit. The words to it are from Robert Burns. Mr. Ward's song is a waltz ballad entitled "Just' Loving You," of which words and music are by the author. The music is one of the catchy and singable things that make an impression on an audience and send people home whistling it. The many friends of both Mrs. Downing and her son will be glad to know of their success. David Bispham has two of Mrs. Downing's songs on his coming year's program. Cecil Fanning in singing her "Pipes of Pan" in Europe and Corinne Ryder Kelsey has sung Mrs. Downing's "June" all through the east.

KERN TO BE A BUFFALO.

He and S. B. Fleming to Become Lodge Members of Herd No. 1.

At a special class to be initiated next Tuesday night by the Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, Senator John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, is to be made a member. Mr. Kern's speaking tour will carry him into this locality, and he has made application to become a member of the organization. State Senator Stephen B. Fleming is also to be made a member of herd No. 1 at the same time.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall and Congressman Cyrus Cline were made members of the lodge last week.

AT THE TEMPLE

Piquancy and flavor are given this week's bill at the Temple by the interesting electro scenic novelty "Visions in Fairyland" with La Graciosa presented by Clyde Rinaldo. It is the most elaborate scenic effect ever accomplished on a local stage. La Graciosa is a beautiful young woman who made the artistic world of Paris hum with praises of her incomparable figure displays in a series of electro scenic poses which is especially pleasing to the ladies and children.

Thos. Q. Seabrook, the clever comedian, is delighting the vaudeville patrons; his songs and stories are immense. Mr. Seabrook is too well known in this city to need an introduction as theater-goers remember him as the star in "The Isle of Champagne" and "A Chinese Honeymoon."

There is another comic opera star on the bill; it is Chas. Loder, who with a company of three is presenting one of the cleverest comedy sketches ever put on at the Temple. Other features are also excellent.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Closing Session Held This Afternoon.

With the sermon of Rev. F. M. Reece, delivered this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the sessions of the Fort Wayne Baptist association, which began on Monday evening, came to a close. The devotionals this morning were conducted by Rev. J. T. Gibbs, of Pleasant Lake, and then Rev. A. M. Bailey, of Peru, representing the Franklin college, spoke on the subject of "The Value of Education;" Rev. W. B. Pope, of Franklin, on state missions, and Rev. S. L. Roberts, also of Franklin, on the publication society, which he represents.

The afternoon devotions conducted by Rev. T. E. Covington, was given over to a great extent to the transaction of unfinished business and the reports of committees. The place for holding the next meeting of the association will probably be left to the executive committee and not announced for some days.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Casey Jones" at the Majestic Theater This Evening.

Which would you rather laugh or cry—there is but one answer—and that is laugh. Now, that's just what "Casey Jones" deals in, laughs, wholesale and retail, but principally the former, for "Casey" is such a furiously funny character that the humor is simply contagious, the merriment starts with the rise of the curtain and continues incessantly until the finale of the show. The fun, music and girls blend deliciously and the costuming and scenic equipment are handsome. The attraction closes a three days' engagement at the Majestic theater this evening. Ollie Mack, a local favorite, is seen in the leading comedy role.

WABASH MAN IS PUT ON TICKET.

Republicans Nominate Dr. J. W. G. Stewart for Congress.

BEVERIDGE IS BUSY

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 18.—Dr. J. W. G. Stewart, of Wabash county, was nominated for congress yesterday on the eighth ballot at the Eleventh district republican convention, defeating John A. Hunt, Miami county, and Dr. George Daniels, of Grant county, his principal opponents. The final ballot stood: Stewart, 76 2-3; Hunt, 45 2-3; Daniels, 6. The nomination came after futile attempts had been made to nominate either James Guild, of Pulaski county, or Col. George Lockwood, Grant county. Guild withdrew his candidacy Monday night, but on receiving slight proportion of the vote of the first ballot he withdrew.

Col. Lockwood took similar action after Grant county had voted solid for him through the fifth ballot.

BEVERIDGE MOVES RAPIDLY.

Progressive Nominee in Lively Tour of Indiana.

Monticello, Ind., Sept. 18.—Despite a gusty rain that began at 6 o'clock in the morning and lasted until late last night, Albert J. Beveridge, progressive candidate for governor, received the heartiest greeting of his campaign, so far, in a trip through Carroll and White counties.

Three addresses were made in Carroll county, at Burlington, Flora and Delphi, during the day and at night Mr. Beveridge spoke here. In defiance of the rain bumper crowds met him at each speaking place.

Mr. Beveridge's chief theme in his speeches of the day was a discussion of the phrase "pass prosperity around but that the republican candidate for governor had said that in attempting to pass prosperity around that all it will do will be to pass prosperity up." Mr. Beveridge declared that such prosperity as that enjoyed by John D. Rockefeller and Thomas F. Ryan, of the tobacco trust, looked to him as if they had "gobbled prosperity."

"'Pass prosperity around,' that is the progressive motto. And that is what the progressive party will do; it seems to have excited the champions of the old order of things, but is prosperity being passed around? In less than forty years John D. Rockefeller has grasped more than a billion dollars of wealth; his income is almost a million dollars a month. Thomas F. Ryan, head of the tobacco trust, has gotten hold of many hundreds of millions of dollars in less than twenty years. No human being can earn so much money. No one of these swollen fortunes constitutes that all honest men freely concede business risk and business genius property received. These vast sums of money were gotten through bad laws."

CHIEF AND LAWYER FIGHT.

Come to Blows During Trial in Mayor's Court of Princeton.

Princeton, Ind., Sept. 18.—During the progress of a trial in Mayor Davidson's court yesterday, Chief of Police Haley, who was on the witness stand, became enraged at a remark made by attorney and former Mayor James B. Gamble, and a fistic encounter ensued. Gamble was knocked to the floor and a rough and tumble fight would have resulted had not the mayor and other court officials interfered. Neither of the combatants was noticeably injured. The case being tried was that of Artie Ellis, a little colored lad, and Gamble, defending him, was questioning the chief with reference to locking boys up with older prisoners. Then the tight started. It was some time before Mayor Davison could restore order and resume proceedings.

Gatlin called the deputy sheriff to his cell on a pretense of wanting hot water for a bath and when his cell was entered he dashed past the officer, coatless and hatless, through the jail to an outside door through which he escaped in the darkness. The deputy was delayed in following Gatlin, having to take time to lock the door to prevent a general delivery.

GIVES BOOST TO ALIMONY SCALE

High Cost of Living Now Cuts Figure in Divorce Allowances.

IN CHICAGO COURTS

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Prices of food and clothing are making divorce a more costly luxury.

Cook county courts have recognized the problem of the higher cost of living and assessed it as a part of the higher cost of high living. Alimony is up, and husbands whose matrimonial difficulties get them into the courts must find means of lengthening their purses.

Women who got their decrees before the courts wrestled with the problem are responsible for the situation.

These wards of the divorce courts are having their troubles. The high cost of living eats into the patrimony their erstwhile husbands dole out to them. Their plaints are daily poured into the sympathetic ears of the courts. And keeping pace with soaring beefsteak prices the alimony scale is "going up."

Increases Are Granted.

Judges of Chicago's divorce courts are taking cognizance of soaring prices in fixing settlements. Daily requests for "increased pay" from former husbands are being made and in some cases granted.

The high cost of living and its relationship to alimony was brought to Judge M. L. McKinley's attention yesterday when Mrs. Eloise S. Wilson, who has been sued for divorce by John P. Wilson, jr., an attorney, asked that she be given $50 a week temporary alimony.

"Rather steep, isn't it?" Judge McKinley asked Frank H. Scott, her lawyer.

"Not a bit, your honor," Mr. Scott answered. "One must consider the cost of living nowadays."

"Uh-hum, I guess you're right," his honor answered, thinking of his own household bills. "Living is pretty high. She may have $50 a week."

Suit Was Sensation.

Mr. Wilson, evidently also acknowledging the new divorce court problem, did not contest. The divorce suit, in which Ogden T. McClurg, once Wilson's warm friend and fellow member of the Saddle and Cycle club, is named, created quite a sensation in society circles when it was filed, as the Wilsons had been active in north shore affairs and entertained lavishly at their home at 1412 Astor street.

Inquiry among members of Chicago's colony of divorcees and those who are battling in the courts for official release from their mates brings to light the hardships they are undergoing in making the cost of living jibe with their alimony allowances.

Needs $750 a Month.

Mrs. Robert S. Lucas, of 1024 Devon avenue, who has sued her husband for divorce and wants $750 monthly alimony, says she and her three children can hardly survive on that amount.

"I really live very modestly," she said, "I keep three servants and a motor and my three children must be clothed and schooled. I don't entertain very much and I contrive to run my house on $500 a month. I can't see how we could live on less than that."

IN THE CHURCHES

LAGRANGE WAS SELECTED.

Presbytery of Fort Wayne Meets in That City Next April.

The Presbytery of Fort Wayne, during the closing hour of its sessions Tuesday afternoon, accepted the invitation extended by the Presbyterian church at Lagrange to meet in spring session at that place on the third Monday of April of 1913.

Rev. David W. Parks, the new pastor of the church at Nappanee, and Rev. Frank K. Baker, the new pastor at Ossian, were received as members of those charges. They will be installed as pastors in October, although at present they are serving these churches.

The elders chosen as delegates to the state synod which meets at Indianapolis are as follows: J. C. Merchant, Troy; J. F. Johnson, Albion; E. A. K. Hackett, Fort Wayne; M. Moorehead, Fort Wayne; A. E. Kelley, Ligonier; George Crieger, Goshen; I. W. Chapman, Warsaw; C. J. Latty, Decatur. The alternates are Messrs. Kaufman, Altman, Meyers, Upson, Roberts and Osborn.

The delegates in attendance were warm in their praise of the sermon delivered by Rev. James M. Gray, D. D., of Chicago, on "The Second Coming of Christ." His position was that Christ may come at any time and was emphatic in his declaration that the New Testament teaching is that Christ will come and reign on earth before the millenium.

YOUNG GIRL HAS A FEARFUL TASK

Strong Men Have Failed in Battle With the English Channel.

IS ONLY SEVENTEEN

FACTS ABOUT ROSE PITONOF.

She is 17 years old.

She is able to float on the water without any movement of hands or feet, for hours at a time.

Physicians who have examined her say that this is because she is covered with half an inch of fat all over the body.

She has swam for over an hour in water that was at a temperature of 30 degrees, containing ice.

Her heart beats at the rate of 56 a minute, and physicians say it is twice as strong as the heart of the average man or woman.

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.

Dover, England, Sept. 18.—I came here to see Rose Pitonof, the 17-year-old Boston girl, attempt to swim the English Channel.

Owing to the weather, she was prevented from making the effort.

From all I could hear of channel swimming from the expert swimmers about Dover, scores of whom have made trips at the channel annually for many years, Rose Pitonof would have been the most remarkable woman on the face of the planet if she had succeeded in swimming from England to France.

Perhaps there is no more experienced swimmer in the English Channel district than Peter Weidman, and I got him to tell me something about the feat.

"There has always been some doubt," he said, "as to whether Captain Webb swam the channel or whether he was washed ashore senseless by the tides. Burgess, however, did swim across the channel last year, for I accompanied him and swam the first five miles and the last four miles with him.

"I'VE ATTEMPTED THE CHANNEL MYSELF THIRTY TIMES."

"I was born here in Dover, and Captain Webb taught me swimming when I was a tiny lad. Some of the things I've seen, when swimmers have tried the channel, have been awful.

"Burgess tried the channel twenty-eight times during seven years before he finally succeeded. He did the channel much as Peary did the north pole; he kept picking up experience, studying the surroundings and building up an organization of men, every one of whom he could trust. It took a crew of eighteen men to attend him across the channel.

"Strong as he was, he vomited time after time and lost his reason.

"The task of swimming for twenty-two hours, without a stop, is enough to rob any man of his senses. I've seen scores of strong men go into the channel bright, happy and hopeful and be dragged into a boat, ten hours later, vomiting, sick, weak and demented.

"It's only twenty-four miles across the channel to France. But to make this distance you have to swim over sixty miles.

"Four tides pass through the channel every twenty-four hours. A channel swimmer always starts out on a tide, which carries him down the channel toward the south. For six hours he must go with this tide. Then, when the tide turns to the north, he must go northward for six hours.

"Thus at the end of twelve hours of swimming, he is but little more than half way across the channel and directly opposite the point from which he started. Then the tide sets in to the south again, and if by this time he hasn't reached the Varn sands he had better climb into a boat, for the tide will carry him toward the English shore. If he has passed the Varn, however, the tide will help him for the next six hours.

"At the end of eighteen hours the new tide will carry him toward the French coast, and if he has only the power left to swim four or five hours more he will land in France.

"Swimming the English Channel isn't just a plain matter of swimming. It's a matter of being able to swim continuously for twenty-four hours if necessary and of being able to hold food on your stomach, even though you become seasick, which often happens.

"From all I've seen of the English Channel, I don't think there's a man alive today who stands a fair chance of swimming it, much less a woman."

SHAMROCKS MAY GET CUP.

If the Club Can Beat Antwerp Sunday It Will Hold Third.

If the Fort Wayne Shamrocks can beat the Antwerp Reds in the game scheduled Sunday at League park, the local club will get one of the silver cups offered to the Trolley league winners by the Toledo & Chicago Traction company. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, half an hour earlier than usual, so the Antwerp folks can get their train for home.

The last battle between the two clubs was a 5 to 5 draw and the Reds are just as good as they were before. Kendallville is right on the heels of the Shamrocks and is after third berth in the standing. Blakey will pitch for the Shamrocks and will be opposed by Joe Carr.

BALL PICKED UP GUM ON INFIELD

McQuillan Couldn't Throw It and Was Charged With "Bonehead."

LOST GAME FOR HIM

Columbus, O., Sept. 18.—"Some years ago," says George McQuillan, the big Columbus pitcher, "when I was in the Eastern league, I was given discredit marks for the grandest bonehead of the season. People all around the circuit laughed at me when they heard the story; my own manager called me everything he could think of, including a lot of names that I was never able to find in any dictionary, and I was popularly regarded as a matchless chunk of concrete for quite awhile. And yet I was strictly innocent—the sport of circumstances and the victim of sheer misfortune.

"Here is a clipping from a paper at the time: 'With one down in the ninth and the bases full, McGlasan hit an easy bounder to McQuillan, who had a double play in his grasp by simply throwing home. Instead of making the play Big Mac sewed the air with the ball, waved it frantically for several seconds and finally held it without even making a throw to any base, while both the tying and then the winning run came galloping home unhindered. It was the richest bonehead seen in any league this season.

"And there were the real facts, showing how circumstantial evidence will ruin any fellow's reputation. In the ninth, with the bases full and one down—as has been stated—an easy bounder was hit right at me. I grabbed it up, and, with all the time in the world to make the throw home, I steadied myself to make the peg a clean one. I aimed and fired, and the ball didn't even start upon its way!

"Naturally I was vastly astounded and somewhat bewildered. I had only a fraction of an instant now to make the play, for the home-bound runner was just tearing up the ground. Again I sighted for the plate, and again I let fly, as I imagined. Once more the devilish ball refused to start; once more it stuck firmly in my hand, and the home-bound runner slid over the plate in a cloudof cinders. I let go a horrible yell, so they told me afterward, and began wrestling with my right hand.

"The ball still stayed in the hollow of my fingers, and the runner who had just reached third started for the plate. I made a desperate effort to release the ball. Nothing doing. It wouldn't budge, and the runner probably thinking my arm was paralyzed, kept right on toward home. At this crisis I gave up trying to free the ball and started for home, hoping to beat the runner to it, but he had too long a lead and slid in ten feet ahead of me, winning the game. Amid wild cries of 'Bonehead!' 'Bonehead!' I sneaked into the clubhouse, the ball still abiding with me, and in a secluded corner made a hurried examination. I was firmly convinced that nothing less than muscular contractions or paralysis had seized me, but not so, not so.

"That infernal ball had picked up a big wad of gum dropped by some blasted idiot on his trip across the diamond, and the side with the gum on it was slapped viciously into my hand when I grasped the ball. The gum was some specially tenacious stuff, and it held the ball against my hand as if nailed on. In the excitement I never felt the gum and never figured out what had queered me till I got into the club house and had time for inspection."

ARRANGING FOR BIG SERIES.

Boston Grounds Rearranged to Accommodate Big Crowds.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—Arrangements for the baseball games in this city of the coming world's championship series at Fenway park are well under way. Nearly one hundred clerks and carpenters are at work completing arrangements for accommodating between 30,000 and 35,000 persons at each of the games expected to be played here. The carpenters are rearing temporary stands on all available space. Ten thousand seats in addition to the normal capacity of 22,000 seats is expected to result from their labors. The clerks, working often well into the evening, face each day a fresh pile of correspondence from all parts of the country regarding the 15,000 seats which can be reserved. The Boston management has adopted an elaborate system of protection against the securing of tickets by speculators. The system already has uncovered attempts to secure seats in bunches for speculative purposes.

It is announced that all of the 15,000 reserved seats will be distributed in person except in the general allotments to the national baseball commission and to the players.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 18.—A trip around the world, to commence shortly after the first of the year, are among the present plans of Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast, according to a statement made in this city yesterday. Wolgast expects to be gone six months and will fight in Australia, France, England and many other places if a contender can be found. He will be open to all comers.

Wolgast's immediate plans include a fight Thanksgiving day with either Richie, Mandot or Rivers. The affair has not yet reached a definite stage, however.

Another of Wolgast's plans, still incomplete, is a hunting trip through South Africa. The champion was accompanied to this city by W. T. Tierney and Walter Reddick, second and third basemen of the Cadillac, Michigan, State league team, and Johnny Sheridan, of Cadillac.

TOO MUCH BOOSTING HURTS.

Terre Haute Papers Had Hargrove Sold for $3,500 to Cubs.

Too much boosting hurt "Bubbles" Hargrove, known at New Haven as Eugene Hargrave, which is his right name. A few months ago ambitious Terre Haute writers had sold him to the Cubs for $3,500. They knew there was nothing to such a story. Hargrave is a fair young catcher but not ready for major league company, as was evidenced by the fact that he not only escaped a sale but was not even picked in the draft.

MOVE TO EXTEND TROLLEY SEASON

Patterson Wants It to Include Two Weeks in October.

SENDS OUT CIRCULAR

Interest in the Toledo and Chicago Interurban league has grown so rapidly that the managers desire to extend the season a couple of weeks longer and to play ball the two first Sundays in October. The proposition has been submitted to all of the managers in the league in a circular letter sent out by G. M. Patterson, traffic manager of the T. & C., who was a prime mover in the organization of the league.

He has not had any replies from the majority of the club heads but has consulted two and has found them ready to enter into the arrangement. The letter is as follows:

"It has occurred to the writer that it would be to the best interest of all concerned if the series of baseball games in the Toledo and Chicago Interurban league was continued to include the first two Sundays in October. I have come to this conclusion after having consulted two of the managers, and after taking into consideration the fact that we have had more or less bad weather during the summer, which has prevented all of us from making all that is possible to make from the operation of this league.

"I would like to have each manager advise me by return mail, his wishes in the matter, also advising that they will abide by the vote of the majority, and it is the earnest hope of the writer that every team will take advantage of the opportunity to schedule league games for the next four Sundays, and make the finish interesting.

"Incidentally I wish to advise that trophies are now on exhibition at Kendallville, and will later be transferred to the various other towns for exhibition. I am indeed pleased with their appearance, and I feel that the teams winning any of the trophies can be justly proud of them.

"Very truly yours,
"G. M. PATTERSON,
"Traffic Manager."

FUND FOR THE WIDOW.

New York Players Have Undertaken Task for Mrs. Raymond.

New York, Sept. 18.—Always holding great sympathy for the wife of Arthur (Bugs) Raymond, once a member of the New York Giants, who recently died in Chicago, the players of the Giants have started a fund to send Mrs. Raymond. The last time the champions played in Chicago, several of them called upon Mrs. Raymond and found that she was practically without funds.

"Raymond's end is a sad, sad case," said Larry Doyle. "He ought to be with us now and getting a share of this world's series money. Raymond was one of the greatest spitball pitchers in the game, but he wouldn't take care of himself."

The death of Bugs Raymond, followed another misfortune of Mrs. Raymond, as less than a year ago she lost her child.

SUMMER SKIN DISEASES

During the summer most persons are annoyed with pimples, boils, rashes, or eruptions, while others suffer more severely with Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some kindred skin disease. The eruptions may be glossed over and inflammation reduced by the application of washes, cosmetics, salves, etc., but no skin affection can ever be permanently cured in this way. Only pure blood insures a healthy skin and the circulation is therefore the point at which treatment should be directed. S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S.S.S. builds the circulation up to its normal strength, increases its nutritive powers and adds to its purity in everyway. Then the skin instead of being irritated, burned and blistered with acid humors and impurities, is nourished and healed by a plentiful supply of pure, rich blood. LEAPS FROM TEMPLE ROOF.

Chicago Man Jumps 22 Stories to His Death.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Prevented from jumping to his death in the interior of the Masonic Temple building by wire nets, C. R. Rasmussen climbed to the roof of the twenty-two story structure today and jumped off. His corpse crashed on the roof of an adjoining building fourteen stories below with such force that the plaster was knocked from ceilings within the structure. Suicides had become so frequent in the interior of the Masonic Temple that wire nets had been stretched to protect people in the rotunda from bodies falling from the upper floors. Every bone in Rasmussen's body was broken. He was an insurance solicitor and was 22 years old. There was no apparent reason for his act.

50,000 MARCH AT NOGI'S FUNERAL

Double Service is Held for Port Arthur Hero and His Wife.

RITES ARE IMPOSING

Tokio, Japan, Sept. 18.—The double funeral of General Count Maresuke Nogi, supreme military councillor of Japan, and his wife, the Countess Nogi, who committed suicide on the night of Sept. 13 just as the body of the late Emperor Mutsuhito passed out of Tokio City on its way to the imperial tomb at Monoyama, was held today with impressive ceremony at the Aoyama cemetery in the presence of enormous crowds.

The funeral cortege left the Nogi residence in Akasaki, a Tokio suburb, at 3 o'clock this afternoon and passed through the streets of the capital on its way to the grave at Aoyama. The body of Japan's great war general was borne on a gun carriage while the casket containing the body of the countess was carried in a hearse. The pallbearers were chosen from the highest ranks of the Japanese army and navy. One regiment of infantry acted as a guard of honor.

Prior to the removal of the bodies, representatives of Emperor Yoshihito and Empress Sadako and the empress dowager visited the Nogi residence.

Representatives of the special foreign envoys who came to attend the funeral of the late Japanese monarch and the resident ambassadors and ministers participated in the procession, which altogether numbered upwards of fifty thousand persons. Marching behind the coffins were great numbers of relatives of soldiers killed at Port Arthur while serving under Gen. Nogi in the spring of 1904.

The special ambassador of the United States, Philander C. Knox, did not participate in the ceremony, he being absent at Kioto, where he went to visit the grave in the imperial estate of Monoyama, close by that of Emperor Mutsuhito. The American secretary of state was represented at Oyama today by Brig. Gen. John J. Pershing, of the special embassy staff. Mr. Knox sent a magnificent wreath.

The ritualistic ceremony at the great funeral hall was extremely impressive and was attended by immense orderly crowds. All the foreign diplomats had seats within the temple. Charles Page Bryan, the resident ambassador, was attended by Secretary Arthur Bailey-Blanchard and Lieut. Commander Lyman A. Cotton and Captain Hubert L. Wigmore, respectively, the naval and military attaches of the embassy.

Many hundreds of wreaths were received from all parts of the world. Ambassador Bryan sent two sacred trees.

After the Shinto rites had been performed bugle salutes blared forth and a triple volley fired over the grave as five minutes past 5 rang out, thus bringing to an end the ceremony of laying to rest the bodies of the hero of Port Arthur and his wife.

committee took up the situation in California.

The following sub-committee was appointed by Chairman Hilles to consider the situation in California: Samuel A. Perkins, Washington; Ralph Williams, Oregon, and Representative Ralph W. Cameron, Arizona, all members of the national committee. The committee adjourned shortly after 2 o'clock for luncheon and will meet later in the afternoon with the advisory committee.

Chairman Hilles Talks.

Mr. Hilles said that in New Jersey, Borden B. Whiting, a Roosevelt follower, had notified the committee of his refusal to resign his membership. The committee, Mr. Hilles said, would declare vacant Mr. Whiting's seat and probably would fill it with Franklin Murphy, a former committeeman. The same situation obtained in California the chairman said where Russ Avery, a Roosevelt man, has not resigned. In this case, however, Mr. Hilles thought that a sub-committee of the national committee would be asked to canvass the situation and recommend a successor to Mr. Avery.

In Other States.

The seat of Wm. A. Edwards, from West Virginia, Mr. Hilles added, would undoubtedly be declared vacant and the state committee would be asked to choose his successor. From North Carolina, Mr. Hilles continued, E. C. Duncan would probably replace Richmond Pearson.

The resignations of C. C. Priestly and I. A. Casewell, from Oklahoma and Minnesota, would be accepted, Mr. Hilles said. J. A. Harris, he thought would succeed Mr. Priestly; the Minnesota state committee would be asked to recommend Mr. C. Casewell's successor.

The resignation of Walter F. Brown, of Ohio, Mr. Hilles continued, would be formally accepted and Sherman Granger, the state committee's choice, would be ratified as Mr. Brown's successor.

A discussion of the electoral situation in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, California, Kansas and other states is scheduled for this afternoon. A meeting of the advisory committee will be held after luncheon.

Forty states were represented by committeemen or their proxies when the committee convened.

Must Declare Themselves.

The loyalty of the members of the republican national committee to President Taft was to be tested at a meeting of the committee which was called for that purpose today. Members of the committee indicated that some of the committeemen were working in the interest of Col. Roosevelt and these would be dropped.

National Chairman Hilles declined early today to say what committeemen would be investigated, nor would he say what the procedure would be in purging the committee of disaffected members. It is understood that all committeemen would be asked to declare themselves for the republican national ticket and platform.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nesbit, of Milwaukee, spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schreck, of Baker street.

REPUBLICANS TO STUMP ONE WEEK

Nebraska Orator to Speak to Voters of Allen County.

WATSON TOMORROW

Arrangements have been completed by the Allen county republican central committee to conduct a speaking campaign in the county all next week. Plans will be perfected Friday night and a schedule mapped out for each township. The principal speaker will be Hon. Richard H. Langford, of North Platt, Neb., an orator of considerable note who has entered the field in the interests of Mr. Taft.

According to Judge B. W. Skelton, secretary of the county organization, this will officially open the speaking campaign in Allen county, and the meetings to be held next week will be followed up. It is planned to bring a number of state speakers here later during the campaign.

The Watson Meeting.

District Chairman Allen J. Vesey and George H. Loesch, vice-chairman of the county organization, will have charge of the entertainment of James E. Watson, who comes to Fort Wayne Thursday for an address at the mass meeting of republicans to be held at Princess rink. These gentlemen will meet the gifted politician at the depot and escort him to the hotel, where an informal reception will be held.

It is expected that Watson's presence will draw a big crowd. Dr. C. B. Stemen will preside as chairman, and other addresses will be delivered by the republican county candidates.

will remain over Sunday in Topeka, after a couple of days in Oklahoma and Arkansas his route leads to Memphis, New Orleans, Montgomery, Birmingham and Atlanta and the north to North Carolina. On the way he will stop over to speak in Baltimore and is due in New York Oct. 2.

COMES TO INDIANA NEXT.

Fred Landis Will Tour State With Governor Johnson.

Centralia, Ill., Sept. 18.—In poor voice, but determined to keep all his engagements, Gov. Hiram Johnson, of California, started today on the last lap of his Illinois tour. His last appearance in the state was to be at Paris late today. From there he was to go to Terre Haute for a night meeting. Thirteen Illinois cities and towns are on today's schedule. They are Duquoin, Carbondale, Murphysboro, Marion, Benton, Mount Vernon, Fairfield, Flora, Olney, Lawrenceville, Robinson, Marshall and Paris.

Frederick Landis, formerly congressman from the Eleventh Indiana district, will join the governor's party tomorrow and speak at Indiana points. Danville progressives, who had planned to entertain Gov. Johnson tonight, announced they would send a delegation to Paris by special train.

MARSHALL AT ST. LOUIS.

Governor Delivers Address Before City Club at Luncheon.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, democratic vice-presidential candidate, who has been on a campaign tour of Missouri, arrived here today at the invitation of the City club to address its members at a luncheon. The governor was accompanied by Mrs. Marshall from Hannibal, where he last night addressed a democratic meeting. Gov. Marshall's arrival here practically was unheralded and he was met only by the secretary of the City club and escorted to a hotel where he rested until time for the luncheon. His address at the club was non-political, although he touched upon the major issues of the campaign. The chief subject of his talk was the failure of American courts adequately to perform their functions.

He said the courts were too much bound by precedent, that the judges were too prone to retire from the heart of things and that for this reason they were falling more and more into disrepute with the general public who could not understand the force of legal precedent. The governor did not go deeply into the recently enunciated doctrine of the recall of judicial decisions.

Immediately after his address Gov. Marshall returned to his hotel, where he was to remain until his departure for Springfield, Ill., at 4 o'clock. He will address a democratic gathering there tonight.

GILBERT FOR CHAIRMAN.

Republicans May Elect Him to Succeed Amos E. Houk.

According to current rumor in local republican circles today, Guy Gilbert, one of the active workers for the welfare of the G. O. P., is to be elected county chairman to succeed Amos E. Houk. Mr. Gilbert is associated with the Lincoln National Life Insurance company and is a brother to Newton W. Gilbert, acting governor general of the Philippine Islands.

The election of a county republican chairman will take place Friday night at a meeting of the central committee.

POSTOFFICE TO BE CLOSED.

Rigdon Residents Will Receive Mail From Rural Carriers.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 18.—The postoffice at Rigdon, a hamlet situated on the Grant-Madison county line, is to be abandoned after Sept. 30. Thereafter residents in that neighborhood will be served by rural carriers from Marion and Elwood. The office will be abandoned, it is said, because of the inability of the postal authorities to find a competent postmaster. The office paid but $90 in salary for the last fiscal year. The Rigdon postoffice is one of the oldest in the county.

TWO BOYS IN DEN OF SNAKES.

Fight Their Way Out, Killing Ten Big Copperheads.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 18.—Rambling over the mountain at Point View, a summer resort eighteen miles south of Altoona, Herbert Ritchey and Robert Dillon, each aged 12, of Altoona, found themselves in a den of copperheads. They were literally surrounded by the deadly reptiles, that resented having their sun bath disturbed. Being armed with clubs for just such an emergency, the boys began to fight their way out, not knowing how many other reptiles might be in the immediate vicinity. After ten of the enemy, ranging in length from 22 to 36 inches, had been slain, the others disappeared in the underbrush.

Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cures of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by all dealers.

"The Harvester company, through Mr. Perkins, acquired control in January, 1903. This contract is signed by Mr. Perkins as chairman of the finance committee of the International Harvester company. The consideration was $4,500,000. The government charges that the Osborne company for several years thereafter was masqueraded as an independent and widely advertised itself as the largest independent company in the country and independent of any 'trust.'"

Mr. Grosvenor also introduced contracts alleging the acquisition by the Harvester company of the Keystone company, Sterling, Ill.; the Aultman & Miller company, Akron, O., and the Minnie Harvester company, St. Paul, Minn.

Will Submit Minutes.

In response to a subpoena attorneys for the harvester company promised to submit the minutes of the meetings of the stockholders, the board of directors and of the "voting trustees, composed of Mr. Perkins, Cyrus H. McCormick and Charles Deering." It was announced these minutes would be scrutinized by the government before they were offered as evidence.

Referring to the testimony of R. C. Haskins, president of the International Harvester company of America, Mr. Grosvenor stated it had been shown that the Minnesota state prison had been a competitor in the manufacture of harvesting machinery and had tended to reduce the price particularly in Minnesota.

WABASH GETTING STEEL RAILS

Stock Sufficient for Six Miles of Track Delivered Last Night.

TO BE USED ON ELEVATED TRACKS

Bass Company Books Order for Steel Mill Machinery at Canton.

Twenty car loads of 90-pound to the foot steel rails, designed for the tracks in the local yards of the Wabash and the main lines through the city, arrived here last night from the rail mills and are now standing on sidings awaiting the convenience of the track layers, who will put them in position for service. Each of these forty cars carries eighty rails or a total of 3,200 feet, and the combined consignment represents 64,000 feet of steel rails, enough to lay six miles of track. The rails now in use on the main line of the Wabash through the city and on the freight house and other sidings ranges in weight from 59 to 63 pounds per foot, which is considered too light for the heavy service of the present day. Ties for the new tracks in the city are also arriving and being conveniently placed and the track layers will soon get busy putting them down on the elevated tracks and elsewhere in the yards.

GOING AFTER CONVENTION.

Labor Leaders Determined to Land 1913 State Meet.

The fifteen or twenty men who will represent the local labor unions at the meeting of the State Federation of Labor in Richmond, Ind., Sept. 24, 25 and 26, met with the convention committee of the Commercial club last evening to discuss the proposition to secure the 1913 meeting of the state federation for Fort Wayne. The meeting last night was satisfactory, the Commercial club promising financial and other necessary aid to properly present Fort Wayne's claims at the Richmond gathering, and after the conference the delegates to the state federation held a meeting for the purpose of outlining action when the question of place of holding the 1913 meeting comes up at Richmond. They are unanimous in the belief of success of their efforts to get the convention.

WILL NOT BUY THE LINE.

Rumor That Pennsylvania Is After Another Road Is Denied.

The rumor circulated through newspaper and other channels during the past three days to the effect that the Pennsylvania would buy the Pere Marquette road when sold at receivers' sale is denied by Samuel M. Morse, receiver of the Pere Marquette. Mr. Morse has just completed his first inspection trip over the system and he is inclined to the opinion that the Pere Marquette can be operated with profit as an independent line. Mr. Morse is quoted as saying the "Pere Marquette receivers were appointed to operate the road and get it on its feet and it is not the intention to sell it. I think it can be rehabilitated in fine shape, but it will take money."

FINALLY LOCATES FOUNDRY.

Central Company Secures Site on East Wayne Street.

William C. Walda & Sons, of the Central Foundry company, have at last secured a location for the plant and have already commenced building. The site is located on East Wayne street, between Grant and Walton avenues, with the rear butting up against the Nickel Plate right-of-way. The railway company has agreed to put in a spur track leading to the foundry and make such other improvements as may be necessary to give the Central Foundry company good shipping facilities. President Walda says the ground was secured from Julius Tonne at a consideration of about $4,000. He expects to erect thereon a building 70x178 feet in dimensions and to have it completed and equipped before the holidays.

RESUMES EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Capt. H. M. Deihl Gets His Instruction Car Out.

The Pennsylvania air brake instruction car, which with the exception of a short period last May has been idle for over a year, will leave Friday for Allegheny to begin an educational work over the three systems of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg that will probably cover a period of eighteen months. Capt. H. M. Deihl, who has charge of this educational feature, has spent his leisure hours of the past ten months in devising and making improvements to the car and he enters upon the coming trip with the feeling that no air brake instructor in the world has better equipment.

LANDS A GOOD CONTRACT.

Bass Company to Build Big Rope Transmission Outfit.

Yesterday the Bass Foundry and Machine company secured the contract of building a 2,000 horse power rope transmission outfit for the United Steel company, of Canton, Ohio. The contract involves the making of the big rope wheels, shafts and pillow blocks, into the construction of which 150 tons of metal will go. It also means a lot of work in the machine shops, which are already very busy. It also means that the company must increase the force of workmen in the machine shop, and the management is now looking for good men.

BOWSER AGENT DEAD.

News of the death of J. L. Wagoner has been received at the office of S. F. Bowser & Company. Death was the result of a cancer and followed a surgical operation in a hospital in Detroit last Sunday. Mr. Wagoner was a resident of Grand Lodge, Mich., and had represented the Bowser company in that territory for some time. He was 62 years old and his early life was devoted to school teaching, a portion of it being spent in Cleveland township, Whitley county, where forty years ago he was considered prominent in educational circles.

RAY PHILLIPS HAS RETURNED.

Agent Ray Phillips has completed a two weeks' vacation, spent in part at Lake James and at Montreal, Can. During his absence L. R. Kercheval, assistant ticket agent, had charge of the local Lake Shore and Lake Erie and Western offices. Mr. Kercheval has now entered upon a vacation which will cover a period of two weeks.

HAS JOB WITH TRACTION COMPANY

D. V. Shea is now a "trouble" man for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, his duties being within the city limits and with the lighting department. Mr. Shea is a lineman and yesterday he resigned a position of that kind at the Pennsylvania power station, where he worked several years.

P. J. SCHEID TAKEN SICK.

While seated at his office desk in the Pennsylvania car machine shop this morning Foreman Peter J. Scheid suffered an attack of heart disease and had to be taken home in a cab. His condition is not regarded serious, though he will probably be unable to resume work for several days.

SHIPPING BIG BOILER.

The first of a pair of 150 horse power tubular boilers, built at the Bass shops for parties in North Manchester, Ind., was shipped today and its mate will follow the latter part of the week. Boiler erectors will leave for North Manchester in a day or two to install the boilers.

CHECKING UP THE CASHIER.

F. W. Henschen and E. A. Flynn, of the Wabash, and J. W. Wooten, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, traveling auditors, are here today checking up accounts with Cashier C. P. Porter. Last week they checked up accounts with Agent Ed Haas.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Ensign George, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is sick and off duty.

Paymaster G. E. Francisco, of the Wabash, made his monthly visit to Fort Wayne today.

A. A. Parker and L. G. Gerardot took employment at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning.

Richard Puff, chief clerk in the Bass foundry office, is taking a week's vacation, which he will spend quietly at home.

The Lake Erie and Western announces another Cincinnati excursion out of Fort Wayne. It will leave the city Saturday night, September 28.

Claim Agent H. T. Swegman, of the Pennsylvania Chicago Terminal division, returned to that city this morning, after spending the night here with relatives.

A force of brick masons is at work on the walls of the new freight house of the Lake Erie and Western at Muncie and will hustle it along to completion before snow flies.

Clyde Starkel, who resigned as assistant to Baggagemaster G. E. Ellenwood, of the Lake Shore, has been succeeded by Roy Reese, formerly a clerk in one of the downtown stores.

Mrs. C. W. Zeigler, wife of Nickel Plate Conductor Charley Zeigler, of Bellevue, spent a few hours with relatives in the city yesterday. Conductor and Mrs. Zeigler are making preparations for a western trip and will leave for Omaha next Sunday.

D. H. Spangle, lineman at the Pennsylvania power plant, is at work there again, after a three weeks' absence. He had been visiting relatives and friends in the fruit growing districts of Colorado and says that the prospects for crops there were never better.

As a result of the purchase by the Wayne Knitting Mills company of the Old Fort Knitting Mills, some changes in the foremanships are taking place. Among the changes is the appointment of Richard S. Lohse to the office of general foreman of the recently acquired shop. Mr. Lohse had been a department foreman at the Wayne Mills.

Harvey McElfatrick is now operating a turret lathe in the Pennsylvania machine shop. The young man was similarly employed in the Wabash shops several years, resigning there last Saturday. He is a son of Machinist Charles McElfatrick, who has worked at the Pennsylvania shops over a quarter of a century.

Charley A. Asterline accompanied the United States marines on the special train which passed through this city yesterday afternoon over the Nickel Plate. Mr. Asterline occupied the position with the Nickel Plate now held by Frank P. Parnin and he took advantage of the opportunity yesterday to meet a number of his old friends. The special train was in charge of Conductor C. A. Bowman.

Friends of the unfortunate lady have been advised of a misfortune which overtook Mrs. Clark E. Slocum, of Grand Rapids, last Monday. While en route to Mackinac Island on a Grand Rapids train she fell and fractured the bones of one of her legs. Mrs. Slocum is the wife of the foreman of the copper shop of the G. R. & I., who formerly resided here and worked in the Pennsylvania shops.

As illustrating the troubles the foremen in the shops are experiencing in maintaining a force, a department foreman in the Pennsylvania shops said this morning: "I took on two new men yesterday and this morning three of those who began work a week or two ago quit. Those who quit the service are foreigners, who, as a rule, prefer outdoor work and we do not expect all of them to remain who take employment in the shops. Some of them, however, are good employes and can be relied upon at all times."

SOBBING MOTHER BEGS FOR CHILD

Promises to Reform and to Maintain Right Kind of Home for Her.

JUDGE APPLIES FINE

With mother love rising above a most distressing and revolting condition of moral turpiture, Sella Clem flung herself on bended knees before William C. Geake, special judge in the city court today, confessed her own wrongdoing and called upon Almighty God to help her in her efforts to become a good mother and solemnly promised that if her daughter were allowed to remain with her she would do her whole duty and lead the child in the path of rectitude.

"Don't take her away from me, don't take my baby. I can't stand it, I just can't. Oh, God help me. I'll do what's right. Please don't do it; please don't. I've worked hard for her and I didn't mean to do wrong. I've worked by the day and kept her and I just can't stand it. Please don't send me to jail. I'll work and pay my fine, but don't, oh please don't, take me away from that girl."

Convulsive sobs followed the outbreak, but the judge pointed out that the mother and Carl Tigges, arrested with her last night, had long set a bad example for a boy of seventeen and a girl a year younger.

"I know pretty well," said the judge, "that this girl is as pure as any girl, but it is rather good fortune than anything else and I mean to place her in better surroundings. The police officers have found a home for her where she will stay for a few months. If at the end of that time you indicate by your conduct that you are truly repentant and that you will provide the kind of a home the girl ought to have, she will be returned to you. This charge of immorality is too serious for the courts to ignore. I personally do not care to inflict any punishment, but the courts would be laughing stock if no penalty were attached in cases of this kind. I shall therefore fine each of you $5 and costs and add thirty days in jail, but will suspend the jail sentence."

The couple was arrested at the home of Mrs. Clem, on Third street, last night. A committee of girls employed in the same factory with the daughter waited upon Patrolman Harry Grimme and disclosed to him the conditions in the household, which had become so repugnant to the daughter that she readily entered the scheme for police interference and let a door open last night so the officers could enter and witness conditions that justified the arrests.

At that, hardened officers were moved by the pitiful appeal of the mother and entertained the hope that she would be allowed the opportunity she begged so hard for.

The Other Cases.

Jerry Farley, who assisted a Hope hospital patient to a train at the Pennsylvania station yesterday and then made away with a pocketbook belonging to Mary Keener, which she had left on a seat, was held to the circuit court under a bond of $1,000. He was charged with grand larceny and his arrest was accomplished at 2:30 o'clock this morning by Detective Sergeant Walter Immel and John Neufer, of the Pennsylvania force as Farley was ready to leave the city on the Nickel Plate.

Of the drunks John Jewell was fined $1. James Carmody the same, Ed Moran got $5, Dick Schreck was held until Sept. 21 and John Wilson until Sept. 19.

William Watkins, a negro, who created some excitement on South Calhoun street by drinking a small quantity of carbolic acid and who was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and placed on an operating table before it was discovered his condition was not serious, was up for disorderly conduct and was ordered to leave the city.

PARK BOARD WILL IMPROVE STREETS

East Wayne and Washington Boulevard East to Receive Trees.

ISSUES A PAMPHLET

A park board resolution has been passed for the improvement of East Wayne street and Washington boulevard east. The ordinance applies to that portion of Wayne street between the east line of Barr street to the west line of Grant avenue, and Washington street from the east line of Barr street to the west line of Glasgow avenue. All dead or unsightly trees are to be removed from these two streets, and all trees will be pruned and preserved if necessary. This work is to be done under the direction of City Forester Carl J. Getz. All open places on the two streets mentioned also are to receive good, healthy, nursery-grown Norway maple trees. The board of park commissioners has issued blanks which will be sent to the property owners concerned. A meeting of the citizens will be called in the near future, and any objections must be stated at that time. It is expected, however, that there will be no opposition to the improvement plan, and that all the property owners will give their approval.

The forestry department has issued an interesting pamphlet containing the city ordinance passed in connection with the planting, trimming and removal of trees in street lawns. Copies of this pamphlet can be had at the city forester's office in the city hall. Citizens desiring the city forestry force to do their tree pruning, planting and preservation may secure this expert service at a reasonable figure by application at the forester's office.

H. L. Somers will leave the city tomorrow for Harrisburg, Pa., on a business trip.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 18.—Cable advices today made wheat turn weak. December started at 90¾c to 91c, then fell to 90½@90⅝c.
The close was steady, ⅝c net higher, for December, at 91½c.
Frosts in Nebraska hardened the corn market, but a reaction followed on account of wheat weakness. December opened at 52¼c to 52½c and sagged to 51⅞c.
Fear of frost tonight brought about subsequent advance. The close was firm, with December at 53⅛@53¼c.
Buying by prominent bulls gave oats relatively more strength than other cereals. December started at 32¼c, touched 32¼@32⅜c and dropped back to 32@32⅛c.
Provisions, though active, suffered an all around decline in sympathy with the hog market. First sales with January were $18.90 to $18.10 for pork, $10.37½ to $10.40 for lard and $9.80 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 18.—The resumption of yesterday's buying was observed at the opening of today's stock market. The anthracite shares were especially strong, Reading and Lehigh Valley rising a full point. Amalgamated, Anaconda and Utah recorded small declines.

Reading and Lehigh Valley features of strength, fell back to a level under yesterday's close, as did also Union Pacific, St. Paul, Steel and the Copper shares. Call money opened at 5 per cent, the demand, however, being rather more active than yesterday. Bonds were steady.

The market closed irregular. Realizing in Coppers forced them below yesterday's final figures, and the rest of the market was inclined to ease off, especially Reading, Union Pacific and Steel.

RAILROADS KILL 32 AND HURT 500

This is the Toll Each Day According to Report Just Made.

MORE CASUALITIES

Washington, Sept. 18.—An average of thirty-two persons were killed and 500 injured daily during the months of January, February and March by the railroads of the country. All the rebellions and revolutions south of the Rio Grande combined were not so injurious to life and limb as the common carriers by rail.

The killed numbered 2,481 and the injured 43,475, according to the bulletin issued by the interstate commerce commission. The killed included only those who died within twenty-four hours of the time of the accident. A conservative estimate is that 10 per cent of those whose death is caused by railway accidents linger for more than that length of time. Therefore the revised number of killed should be 2,959, or an average greater than the thirty-two.

Assuming the annual earning power of each person killed or injured to be $500, so as to allow for the women and children included, the daily loss in lives snuffed out, capitalizing the earning power on a 5 per cent. basis, was $320,000. Assuming that the injured were incapacitated for fifteen days, the temperary destruction of capital amounted to $5,000,000 a day. The loss in wages of those injured, on the $500 a year basis, amounted to $9,665.

The number of killed in train accidents numbered only 2,348 and the injured 20,409. The word only is used because the total when the whole sacrifice is counted is the much larger figures before given.

The value of the engines and cars, ties and rails smashed was $3,368,125. Unless the property damage amounted to more than $150 no report was made. Unless the railroad employes was incapacitated for more than three days he was not listed among the injured. Persons other than railroad employes who were incapacitated for a whole day were listed among the injured.

It was the worst quarter since that ending September 30, 1907. During that period there were 5,050 accidents, of which 1,674 were collisions, 2,229 derailments, 504 miscellaneous, including boiler explosions, and 243 accidents not causing derailments.

The accident insurance offer to pay double indemnity to the person killed while a passenger on the train of a common carrier is still good business. That is ,there are more chances for a man to be killed while walking along the street than if he is a passenger in a railway coach. Only thirty-three passengers were killed in train accidents and the total of all passengers killed was only seventy-one.

The big passenger train wrecks that occurred early in the summer, obviously, cannot be included in a bulletin covering the first quarter of the year. The number of passengers injured was 3,774; employes killed, 1,040; injured, 37,539; other persons, trespassers and non-passengers, killed, 1,361; injured, 2,162.

These figures are all exclusive of the casualties on interstate trolley roads. They, during the three months under considerationfi had eighty-one accidents to trains in which they killed eight passengers, injured 604 and produced a total of fifty-three killed and 1,020 injured.

Railroad managers who have been growling at the commission because it has allowed comparatively few general advances in rates, though many specific advances between what might be called local points have been allowed to go into effect, have suggested that this stringent policy has compelled them to forego repairs to track and equipment which they would have made had they been permitted to increase their income.

The report appears to afford them ground for their complaints, because during the quarter derailments due to defective roadway and equipment increased 57½ per cent., while the increase in the number of trainmen killed while on duty amounted to nearly 100 per cent.

VETERANS OF WAR TO HOLD REUNION

Survivors of the Forty-Fourth Regiment Are Coming Tomorrow.

A BRIEF HISTORY

More than one hundred gray-haired veterans will meet in Fort Wayne tomorrow for the thirty-third annual reunion of the Forty-fourth regiment, Indiana volunteers. Not many of the present generation realize the significance of the gathering, but those who are still alive and remember the date in 1861 when the ten companies of this regiment left for the seat of war, will doubtless take great pleasure in the reunion.

Captain W. A. Kelsey, of Fort Wayne, is president of the association, and Hon. Frank W. Willis, of Waterloo, has served as secretary and treasurer of the regiment for thirty-one years. Lieutenant Colonel P. R. Grund is the only living staff or field officer who served continuously from the muster in until the close of the war.

Was Organized Here.

The 44th regiment of Indiana volunteers was organized in the autumn of 1861 at Camp Allen, Fort Wayne, and was composed of ten companies recruited in the eight counties then constituting the Tenth congressional district. The regiment was fully organized and mustered into service November 22, 1861, and left Fort Wayne for Indianapolis on the following day. The first camp was established at Indianapolis and remained there until Dec. 11, when the men were ordered to camp at Henderson, Ky.

On Saturday, February 15, the regiment engaged in its first battle. After a hard fought encounter the enemy was forced to surrender on the following day. The 44th lost seven men, and thirty-six were injured. After the surrender of Fort Donaldson the regiment marched over land to Fort Henry and remained there until March 10. It left on the Tennessee river under the direction of General Grant and after several halts, landed at Savannah and then later went to Pittsburg, where it participated in one of the bloodiest battles of the rebellion on April 6, 1862.

Other engagements followed fast and furious, but in most of them the 44th distinguished itself as an organization of the nation's best fighting men.

On December 26, 1862, commenced the advance on Murfreesboro, arriving in the enemy's front Tuesday night, December 30. The battle opened fast and furious. On Wednesday, the 31st, the 44th was sent from the extreme left of the union army to the support of its right wing, which had been driven back early on the morning of the 31st. After the enemy had been checked, both armies remained comparatively quiet on January 1, 1863, but the battle was renewed on Friday, the 2nd, and wound up by the rebels evacuating on Saturday night. The 44th lost in the battle, 8 killed, 52 wounded and 25 missing. The regiment remained with the army at Murfreesboro until July 4, 1863, when a forward movement began and the 44th reached McMinnville July 7, where it remained in camp until September 3, when it resumed its forward movement, crossing the Cumberland mountains to Dunlap, thence to Bridgeport, where it crossed the Tennessee river, then to Chattanooga, which had been evacuated by the rebels. The 44th went into camp at Crawfish Springs, near Lee and Gordon's mills, September 15th.

On the 18th it became apparent that another battle was impending; on the night of the 18th the 44th supported General Wilder's brigade at Alexandria bridge and was the first infantry to fire shots in the battle, which opened up next day in good earnest. On September 19th and 20th the 44th bore its part in the battle of Chickamaugua, and on Sunday when its division had been defeated and scattered, it went to the sound of firing and reported to General Thomas at Snodgrass Hill. General Harker (of General Thomas' corps) under whose eye it fought, gave the 44th due credit in his report for its action at Snodgrass Hill.

Sunday night the regiment fell back to Chattanooga, and on Monday was again engaged at Mission Ridge. Loss in killed or wounded, 88. Then followed the rebel siege of Chattanooga; its relief by General Grant, the battle of Lookout mountain, Mission Ridge, etc., in all of which the 44th bore an honorable part.

On the 9th of January, 1864, the regiment re-enlisted and returned to Indiana on veteran furlough. Upon its return to Chattanooga, the regiment was assigned to post guard duty, and so remained until it left for home September 6, 1865. Its final muster out taking place at Nashville, Tenn., September 14, 1865.

At the final muster out 193 of the original enlisted men remained, 33 returned as commissioned officers, 89 returned as non-commissioned officers and 71 returned as privates. The total loss of the regiment during four years of service was 408 killed, wounded and died of disease.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by all dealers.

STUDENTS ARE SUSPENDED.

Sixteen in Rushville High School Belong to Fraternities.

Rushville, Ind., Sept. 18.—Sixteen high school students, four girls and twelve boys, were suspended and will not be allowed to attend again until they have shown the city school board that they no longer belong to a fraternity or a sorority. The drastic step was taken because it was learned that members of two fraternities and one sorority have violated their pledge, signed last year. According to that agreement the fraternity members were to cease operations after March 15.

Here Is Something New

The New Model Eight-Day Clock Time Attachment in connection with the Minneapolis Heat Regulator. You can have one place to operate your furnace, hot water or steam plant and save approximately 20 per cent. in your fuel bill, which means a saving in time of firing, the carrying out of ashes, the wear and tear on your heater.

Means to you an even temperature in your home or office, relieves your mind of the work and worry of regulating dampers to control the heat—a real money-saver, for it works 24 hours a day—"always on the job," keeping watch over your coal pile and your health. You pay for it whether you buy or not.
